PROBE SKULL FINDING MYSTERY

Would Be Wife

But Only For $2,000—To Save Mother

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch To New Castle News

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Feb. 12.—What is the market price of a good wife?

Would a really good one—one who would cook and sew, take care of the home and rear babies—be worth $2,000, payable cash on delivery?

Opinions may vary, but that at least is the market quotation given by a Sioux City divorcee, Mrs. G. S. Smith, who has broadcast an offer to sell herself in marriage to the first eligible man who appears, cash in hand, to claim her as his bride.

Mrs. Smith says that she is impelled to make the unusual offer because of the dire need of her mother, who is seriously ill and must undergo an expensive operation if her life is to be spared.

Mrs. Smith is 35 and of pleasant disposition. She weighs 145 pounds, has straight black bobbed hair and sparkling black eyes.

She promises that she will do everything in her power to be a good wife to the man who accepts her offer. Her tastes, she says, are simple and her wants easily satisfied.

Three Quake Shocks In Imperial Valley

(International News Service)

CALEXICO, Cal., Feb. 12.—Three fairly sharp earthquakes rocked the lower end of Imperial Valley early today, shaking plaster off walls and in one instance causing the cornice of a large building to crash to the street.

The shocks were felt in Calexico and Mexicali and are believed to have centered in this area. There were no casualties.

Considerable excitement was caused by the tremors which followed each other at 45-minute intervals. The first shock came at 12:58 a. m. and was the strongest of the series, lasting probably 30 seconds.

The second quake came at about 1:45 and the third at about 2:30, both of these latter, however, being of slight intensity.

In Calexico the cornice of the Virginia Hotel was partly shaken down and buildings throughout the city and in Mexicali, just across the border, had plaster loosened from them.

Harvard Students And Police In Riot At Cambridge

NINE IN HOSPITALS FOLLOWING CLASH

FIRST PAGE

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 12.—Forty men, nearly all Harvard students, were under arrest, nine men were in Cambridge City hospital and the vicinity of Harvard Square was littered with broken bottles, vegetables and sticks today as the after-math of an early morning riot between more than one thousand Harvard students, their friends and policemen.

The battle between the Crimson and the bluecoats began in Harvard Square, scene of the start of a riot between Massachusetts Institute of Technology students and police. The generally accepted version of the cause was that students became angry because a patrolman arrested a student who was intoxicated.

Those in Cambridge hospital as a result of the engagement, which lasted more than an hour, are:

Officer's Condition Serious

The condition of O'Connor was regarded as serious. He was kicked in the groin by a young man he described as "a football husky."

From windows residents of streets adjacent to Harvard Square watched the melee rage across the Square and into Dunster street. From windows students hurled down on the heads of the patrolmen swinging night sticks a barrage of bottles, vegetables, sticks and other missles.

Among those captured was Arthur S. French, the Crimson football hero, who made the last minute forty-seven yard run against Dartmouth for a Harvard victory.

United States Will Continue Efforts For Disarmament

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The United States will continue to participate in the League of Nations' efforts to arrange an international armament conference through the preparatory commission at Geneva, so long as there are any prospects of success, Secretary of State Kellogg advised the House foreign affairs committee in a letter today.

The letter was written to support President Coolidge's request for an appropriation of $75,000 with which to continue American participation. Kellogg said it would be inadvisable for the United States to withdraw at this time, as to do so might leave this government under suspicion of not supporting disarmament.

Kellogg stated his belief that great progress was being made toward getting the other powers to accept the American viewpoint on disarmament.

Man Like Lincoln Great Need Of Day

(International News Service)

CHICAGO Feb. 12—America, on the 118th anniversary of his birth, is badly in need of a man like Lincoln, Probate Judge Henry Horner, one of the leading Illinois authorities on the life of the great emancipator, declared today.

"What a blessing it would be" said Judge Horner, "if this genration, that has so distinguished itself by its apparent disrespect for law, could produce another Lincoln to remind us of our duties and responsibilities."

Judge Horner declared Lincoln's whole attitude toward respect for law was summed up in the following quotation from his works:

"Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap; let it be taught in the schools, in seminaries and in colleges; let it be written in primers, spelling books and almanacs; let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls and enforced in the courts of justice and in short, let it become the political religion of the nation. Let the old man and the young, the rich and the poor, the grave and the gay of all our sexes and tongues and colors and conditions, sacrifice unceasingly upon its altars."

Lincoln's respect for law was carried directly into his own profession, it was revealed.

"By far the most notable trait in Lincoln as a lawyer" said Judge Horner, "was his unwillingness to take an unjust cause. I know the sophistry that will be advanced in some quarters against this. With Lincoln it was simply a physical and moral impossibility for him to stand for a thing he thought unjust. That's why he was a power in the court room.

ACTION IN CASES IS UP TO SENATE

Men Cited Refused To Give Information In Recent Political Probes

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Contempt citations were filed in the Senate today against Samuel Insull, Chicago multimillionaire; Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney of Cook county; Daniel F. Schuyler, an Insull attorney, and Thomas W. Cunningham of Philadelphia, by the Reed campaign fund committee.

The committee asked the senate to take any action it deemed proper but did not suggest any specific punishment.

Members of the committee will later urge the senate to initiate criminal proceedings against the three men.

Refused To Testify

The report set forth the refusals of Insull, Crowe and Schuyler to testify about expenditures by or contributions to the Crowe-Barrett Republican organization in Chicago. The committee declared Smith could not have been elected without this organization's support and that therefore, its expenditures

World Chase Ends In Arrest

Man Taken In Manila Is Accused Of Wrecking Train In Oregon

(International News Service)

MANILA, Feb. 12.—An International chase was at an end today when Private James C. Price of B Company, thirty-first infantry, confessed he was Hugh D'Autremont, sought since October 11, 1923, as one of three brothers charged with responsibility for the dynamiting of a Southern Pacific passenger train in Siskiyou tunnel, Oregon. Three trainmen were slain in the attempted hold-up.

Price was arrested at Los Banos, Laguana, by United States Postal Inspector Fred Smith, who three months ago came to the Philippines on a tip that one of the three D'Autremont brothers wanted for the hold-up was here.

Price enlisted in the army in Chicago in April, 1924, and came to the Philippines in 1925.

Army authorities declared today that the identification was positive.

Make Notable Record Building Large Addition To Plant

One of the most remarkable achievements in the building construction line ever accomplished here, has just been completed in the erection of a mammoth addition to the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing plant at New Castle Junction, in record breaking time.

The new addition, which is 90x400 feet, was started on January 13 by the Austin Company of Cleveland, and was completed on February 10. The building is of stone, brick and glass construction. Usually it would take six months or more to accomplish what has been done in less than one month. In view of the fact that there was some very cold weather during ing the period, the erection of the building is all the more remarkable.

The new addition will double the size of the plant. Contractors have already started work installing a tunnel kiln inside the building. It is expected that this will be completed and that the new addition will be ready for operation about April 1st.

President C. J. Kirk stated this morning that when the kiln is completed the plant will employ about 200 additional men. There are about 200 employed at present. The Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Plant is one of New Castle's most successful and substantial industries. The company has lately patented a colored sanitary ware which is meeting with a hearty reception. Nothing like it has even been manufactured befors.

France Will Reject Coolidge Proposal

Awaiting Action Of France Upon Coolidge Move

France Holds Key To Plan For Further Naval Disarmament

NOT BELIEVED FRANCE FAVORABLE

President Coolidge Is Putting Responsibility Up To World Nations

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The fate of President Coolidge's new disarmament conference rested today where every disarmament question has rested since the Washington conference—with France.

The first reaction of the powers to the American proposal has been precisely as anticipated by officials of this government it was said today—approval and indicated acceptance by Great Britain and Japan. cautious examination on the part of Mussolini in Italy, and hostility and coldness on the part of the French.

No Optimism

Whether French sentiment has changed sufficiently in the past five years to permit further dimunition of the French navy remains to be seen. By most officials here it is felt to be wholly problematical, and there is no great optimism over a favorable response from Paris. On behalf of President Coolidge it was said he has no inkling, private or otherwise, as to what France will do.

Mussolini's response is believed to hinge more or less upon France. Both are Mediterranean powers. Both were treated alike at the Washington conference as to ratio in capital ships, being accorded 1.67 as against three for Japan and five for Great Britain and the United States. French and Italian interests are to a large extent similar.

Outright refusal of the Coolidge invitation is not expected, however, from either France or Italy. Neither could afford to be put in such an obstructionist position before world opinion, it was pointed out today.

What is rather expected from France is "an acceptance in principle" which may mean something or nothing at all. Having accepted "in principle" the general theory that further naval reduction is desirable, the French could then go about and surround their acceptance with such conditions as to PARIS, Feb. 12.—The French cabinet, in a three-hour session today at the Elysee Palace, virtually agreed upon a reply to President Coolidge's disarmament proposals which was tanamount to a rejection, it was learned.

The reply, which was drafted by Foreign Minister Briand and the foreign office experts, was a diplomatic statement, couched in soft terms, but its effect was that of rejection, it was learned.

Suggestions as to changes in the draft were made and the final draft will be laid before the cabinet on Tuesday.

Japan Favorable To Disarmament

Fire Siren To Replace Westminster College Bell

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 12.—To the student body of Westminster college, there has been one thing especially that has been lacking in their daily lives since the burning of Old Main, January 24. It is the ringing of the college bell which for many years has rung at 7 a. m. daily to awaken the students in dorms and fraternity house and which was especially vital in marking athletic victories.

This vacancy is to be filled in the next day or so, in a rather unique way. A fire siren is being erected on the Science Hall. Whereas the old bell rang only at 7 a. m. and on special occasions, the siren will be sounded as a signal for the dismissal of classes. It is of a powerful type and can be heard in all parts of the town. This is necessary since the classes are widely distributed, some meeting in Science Hall, some in the gym and some in the Town Men's club.

Students are anxiously awaiting the removing of the debris from the spot near where the old bell crashed down from the belfry to the cellar. There are hopes that the bell can be preserved in some form for sentimental reasons.

At chapel Friday, Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president, again thanked the faculty and student body for their co-operation in this time of inconveniences. Since the fire, which destroyed much of the physical body but not the spirit of the school, the regular daily curriculums have been carried out without complaints and there is every indication that the same loyalty will be shown until a new Old Main has been erected.

Newspaper Clippings Add To Mystery In Find Made By Boy

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Feb. 12.—Police were investigating today to determine whether a ghoul or a fiendish slayer was responsible for the presence of the skulls of four women which were found in an abandoned trunk in a Royal Oak township home.

The gruesome discovery was made by Harry Wilson, 12-years old. While playing in the attic he pried into the trunk and at the bottom found each skull wrapped separately in newspaers.

With the skulls was found a notebook in which were listed the names and addresses of several prominent Detroit and Pittsburgh women. In one group of names which was marked "special group"

Report Thousands Killed In Chinese Battle At Hangchow

Heavy Casualties Occur As Troops Take Up Hand-To-Hand Fighting

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 12. — Outnumbered two to one, but equipped with the most modern arms and artillery, the Cantonese forces of Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek today were strongly entrenched in the mountains back of Hangchow, stubbornly resisting the attacks of the troops under General Sun Chuan-Fang.

The battle around Hangchow, which resulted yesterday in the Cantonese being driven back to the mountains, was described in messages from the front today as the most sanguinary of the present Chinese revolution. Thousands were reported killed and wounded. The northern troops, a hundred thousand strong, were matched against but half that number of Cantonese, but the latter were better equipped and offered vigorous resistance. There was much hand to hand fighting, in which both sides suffered heavy casualties.

BANDIT KILLED

I never knew an actual prince, who boasted of his royal line, for most of them are far away, across the well known ocean brine. I never met the Prince of Wales, nor yet his brother, Duke of York, I never met the Queen Marie, nor even met the Count of Cork, but now today we have with us, a real live prince whose name is Bill, although I guess back home no doubt, the neighbors call this princeling, Will. He is a real guy so they say, who shoots a mean and trusty gun, and so good folks if you have not, met up with princes here is one. The boys are out with flags and bands, to keep this royal princely date, for Bill is here, none other but, the weather's warmer, thirty-eight.

Lawrence County To Get $18,668.34

State To Return This Sum To Lawrence County, Says Lewis

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 12. — During the six months ending December 31, the state collected $6,515,165.22 in gasoline tax or $613,909 in excess of the amount of the corresponding period of 1925, State Treasurer Samuel S. Lewis announced today.

The total tax collected during the year was $11,767,575. This was an increase of $1,266,028 over 1925, or approximately twelve per cent.

Treasurer Lewis estimated that if the same ratio of increase is maintained for the next two years approximately $28,000,000 should be collected. Of that amount one fourth would go back to the counties or origin and the balance to the motor fund.

After deduction of state bond road sinking fund charges there will be approximately five or six million dollars available for road construction and maintenance, Lewis estimated.

For the six months period $1,630,566 will be returned to the counties.

The amount to be returned to counties included $226,419.54 for Allegheny; Beaver $22,559.71; Centre $10,473.20; Clearfield $14,754.82; Clinton $6,155.30; Erie $38,945.84; Fayette $31,166.23; Huntingdon $8,408.76; Indiana $12,664.78; Jefferson $9,607.27; Lackawanna $44,053.49; Lawrence $18,668.34; McKean $11,515.69; Mercer $19,506.55; Mifflin $7,637.61; Venango $15,126.04; Warren $8,758.89 and Washington $33,082.51.

STUDENTS BATTLE SQUAD OF POLICE

French, son of a Greater Boston architect, claimed he and several friends were only trying to curb the rioters.

Patrolman James Pryor, on duty outside, stepped aside as the swamp of collegians swept across the square. At Dunster street a taxicab with a student and a girl inside was spied and the throng from the theatre immediately took possession of the vehicle. Pryor ran to the rescue and received a smash on the jaw. Holding the crowd off with his pistol, the patrolman sent in a riot call.

Three wagon-loads of police arrived, a force of twenty-five bluecoats. As he stepped from one of the wagons, Patrolman O'Connor was felled and kicked. He was rescued by his mates. Much hand to hand fighting and missle throwing followed.

The police formed a wedge and with a rush drove the students into Harvard Yard and arrested the forty men.

Cambridge police, with the students cornered in Harvard Square, started to storm the place but were held off by Yard guards, who refused to open the portals.

Students from dormitory windows pelted the police as the officers stood outside the yard. Finally, the police detail departed.

Throughout the rest of the morning automobiles carrying students with bail dashed to and fro from the police stations in Brattle Square and Central Square.

Prince William this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Scottish Rite Cathedral will tell his most interesting story of Hunting Big Game in Pygmy Land, which will be illustrated with motion pictures and slides.

Youngstown Delegation.

Swedish-Americans of this district and Youngstown are planning to turn out enmasse to greet and hear Prince William, who because of his Democratic tendencies, is one of the best beloved princes of royal blood in Europe. The president of the Swedish-American club of Youngstown has made reservations for 200 members at the Cathedral this evening and they will be seated in one group, a section being reserved for them. Other than this there will be no reservations, and those planning to attend should be on hand early to get their seats for the indications are that a record crowd will be in attendance.

The Prince will remain here at the Fountain Inn until Sunday morning when he returns to Pittsburgh where he speaks Monday.

PITTSBPRGH, Feb. 12.—Prince William, second son of King Gustav V. of Sweden, arrived here today and was greeted by representatives of Swedish societies under whose auspices he will lecture here February 14.

The Prince was to leave this afternoon for New Castle to fill a lecture engagemeit tonight returning to Pittsburgh tomorrow.

make it largely meaningless. Such was the course of French strategy at the Washington conference toward proposals France did not like, and there is no reason to believe it has changed materially since 1922. Incidentally, France has yet to ratify the five-power naval treaty negotiated five years ago.

It is held here to be exceedingly doubtful if France, in any event, would agree to accept the 1.67 ratio on submarines, light cruisers and destroyers, such as was imposed on her in capital ships at the Washington conference. French statesmen declared then, and have declared many times since, that a great force of submarines is France's protection against a superior naval power, meaning England, and they had no intention of relinquishing that.

President Coolidge was fully aware of this situation when he sprung his proposal upon the world. Save for Great Britain, it is said that none of the powers had any inkling of the American move.

The usual course in such matters is to "sound out" foreign governments in advance on such proposals. However, American diplomats have covertly sounded out Europe so many times on the proposal in the past three years, only to be rebuffed at Paris, that this time President Coolidge decided to toss the issue publicly on the table before the world. Then if there is failure to progress toward eventual disarmament the world can properly place the responsibility where it belongs.

The poor maligned gorundhog, because he is supposed to be a weather prophet, although his fame and name is known throughout the civilized world, due to his numerous press agents, only attempts to control weather conditions in Ohio, Pennsylvania and parts of New York state, according to J. B. McLendon, well-known carpenter of this city.

The groundhog, besides what human enemies he may have incurred by his weather prophecies and those hunters who like to taste of his flesh, has his enemies in the animal world, and one of these is the rattlesnake, and he is seldom, if ever, found in sections where the rattlesnake exists. For this reason the groundhog finds Ohio, Pennsylvania and parts of New York best suited for his abode. He is never found below the Mason and Dixon line.

New Castle streets are bedecked with flags today. Lincoln's birthday is being celebrated. The flags are also serving a dual purpose, the other being the nature of an honor to the visiting Prince of Sweden.

Weather conditions just can't stay bad, it appears. With a heavy snowfall on Thursday night, weather conditions moderated again yesterday, and today mild spring weather conditions prevail.

Councilman Davies' suggestion that all dogs be tied up peding an investigation of the possibility of development of rabies is excellent. Under the law, dogs are required to be kept tied up, and not allowed to run at large.

Especial tribute will be paid the memory of Abraham Lincoln at some of the church services in the city Sunday. Likewise the scout anniversary will be recognized in some.

Mention Moore As Theater Czar

Former Ambassador To Spain May Become Judge Landis Of Stage

HOPE TO HALT POLICE RAIDS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—To prevent further raids by police on Broadway productions, the name of Alexander P. Moore, former ambassador to Spain, was being considered today in theatrical circles as a czar for the theatre.

Moore admitted he had received several offers to become the Judge Landis of the stage but he said that to date he had not taken the offers seriously.

"However, if there is a sincere desire on the part of theatrical people, theatre owners and producers to have my help I would give my aid", Moore said.

This move to clean the stage from within followed acting Mayor McKee's announcement that police now have a blanket order to make arrests wherever they find evidence of obscenity in a performance. The first court fight will come next Monday and Tuesday when producers and actors arrested in raids on three shows will be given hearings.

Moore, husband of the late Lillian Russell, actress, said today that the theatre should be saved "from petty outsiders who would ruin it."

Sacasa Will Not Withdraw, Is Firm In His Convictions

(International News Service)

PUERTO CABEZAS, Nicaragua, Feb. 12.—Although discouraged by the defeat of his troops at Chinandega, Dr. Juan Sacasa, liberal leader, declared today that he will not withdraw and he will not accept any proposals for his resignation on the basis of an interim regime under the direction of American marines.

Dr. Sacasa stated that no form of military government is acceptable to him and his only formula for peace now is mediation by the United States and Central American States. He points out that on February 4 he sent an offer of acceptance of such mediation to Secretary of State Kellogg but has had no reply.

Valentine Social Event Of Friday In Christian Church

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian church is planning a big Valentine Box Social for Friday evening, February 18 to be held in the church parlors.

Invitations have been extended to all the Young People's Societies in the city. About 150 young people are expected to attend this event.

Prizes will be awarded to the ones putting on the best stunt. A Valentine mail box will be there for everyone to mail a Valentine to some of the ones present.

Last but not least, a big surprise is in store for everyone. Plan to save this night for a good time.

Aldehol Is Acceptable To U. S. Treasury Officials As Non-Poisonous Denaturant

BY ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Non-poisonous denatured alcohol virtually was assured by the treasury today.

Government formulae providing for denaturing by the addition of aldehol and four percent wood alcohol will go on the market shortly after April 1, but chemists believe that during the year a big percent or all of the wood alcohol may be eliminated.

"If the new formula is a success, as is anticipated, it may be modified through a reduction of the wood alcohol content," Dr. J. H. Doran, prohibition chemist, said.

"Aldehol, approved as a denaturant by Dr. Joseph James, of Carnegie Technical Institute, is the element in the new formula which prevents industrial alcohol from being used for beverage purposes.

"The wood alcohol is employed exclusively to prevent removal of aldehol, through redistillation, boiling or other processes."

If the present treasury policy is carried out the wood alcohol content will be cut down gradually, to determine whether or not aldehol will stand by itself as a denaturant. Investigations thus far completed indicate that wood alcohol may be removed without reducing the value of the aldehol denaturant.

Membership Drive Brings Out Rivalry

Legion Teams Are Working Hard To Win Over Ellwood City

Membership drive of the American Legion is progressing in a very satisfactory manner according to Ivor V. Davis, Chairmen of the Membership committee. Harry M. Long and John McKibben are still holding their own with Harry Long having a slight edge on John McKibben.

The Post at present has a membership of 246 paid up members for the year 1927. This total brings the local post up to the first in the district for membership.

The contest with the Ellwood City post shows that New Castle needs 24 more members to even up with that post. The rules of the contest are that New Castle must obtain 2 to every 1 of the Ellwood City post on account of the greater number of eligibles in this city. The winner of the contest is to receive a banquet from the losers, so the local boys will have to make the Ellwood boys hustle on the home stretch.

The team captains are, Harry M. Long, Pat Dempsey, Attorney Clarence Patterson, Ed. Marshall, Norman Waddlinger, and John McKibben. They report that they expect to add 100 new members during the next week.

Those who are eligible to the American Legion are ex-service men who have an honorable discharge from the service and have served during the World War. The annual dues of the Legion are $4.25.

Any information regarding the Legion can be had from the Post Commander, Harry M. Long located in the Johnston Building or Chairman of the membership committee, Ivor V. Davis of the New Castle Feed Company.

REED COMMITTEE ASKS PUNISHMENT OF PROBE BALKERS

and collections were a part of the Smith campaign fund.

It cited Cunningham because he refused to tell where he obtained $50,000 which he said he contributed to the campaign fund of Representative William S. Vare in the Pennsylvania senatorial primary.

"The testimony of the witness, Cunningham, speaks for itself," the committee reported. "Every opportunity was given the witness, Cunningham, to testify, and, as his testimony fully dicloses, he steadfastly and obdurately refused to give your committee any information.

Committee Report

In reference to Insull, Crowe and Schuyler, the committee said:—"Your commitee respectfully reports that because of the recalcitrance and refusal of said witnesses to answer the interrogatories addressed to them, your committee was unable to ascertain and is therefore unable to report the amount of money's which were collected and expended, or the persons from whom collected, in order to promote the nomination of Frank L. Smith.

"Further, your committee was unable to ascertain and report as to the methods which may have been employed and which may be employed by unfair or dishonest means to secure nominations or conduct elections, or to gather that character of information which Congress is entitled to have in order that it may be proper legislation safeguard the nomination and election of members of the United States senate.

"Your committee conceives the purpose for which it was created to have been that it should ascertain not only whether those seeking entrance into the senate gained their apparent nomination and election by fair and honest means, but also to ascertain all facts touching the methods of conducting elections which would be of advantage to the Congress in framing proper statutes to govern the conduct of elections.

"Wherefore, your committee reports the facts as aforesaid to the senate for such further action as the senate may deem mete and proper."

Identify Wounded Robber As Slayer Sought In Carolina

(International News Service)

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 12. — A man going under the name of Edward Hazen, seriously wounded in a Terre Haute, Ind., drug store hold-up on January 25, has been identified at Otto Wood, slayer of A. W. Kaplan, Greensboro, N. C., pawn broker, state prison superintendent George Ross was notified today.

Wood, who escaped from the state prison here three times, was known as North Carolina's most desperate convict. He made his last escape on November 22, and a price of $500 was placed on his head by the state of North Carolina.

Injuries Prove Fatal To Woman At Age Of 100

(International News Service)

MEADVILLE, Pa., Feb. 12. — Mrs. Frances Campbell, believed to have been the oldest resident of this district, was dead at her home today of injuries suffered when she fell here several weeks ago. Mrs. Campbell was 100 years, 4 months and 10 days old, her relatives said.

She was born aboard ship crossing the Atlantic Ocean from Ireland to America, she frequently told her friends.

The aged woman suffered a broken hip in her recent fall, and the injury, coupled with advanced age, proved fatal.

The reason the old fashioned girl didn't call her beau "daddy" was because he wasn't old enough to be her daddy.

Offers Some Suggestions

(Contributed)

The members of council who recently visited Harrisburg no doubt used their eyes while there, and saw the beauties of the city. Is it too much to expect of them, that they should strive to copy the state capital, by beautifying our fair city?

We have several plots of land owned by the city, reserved for city parks, that could be developed a little every year. Why not start this Spring? We have one place, just recently bought, located in the heart of the city, but it is an eyesore to the neighborhood. Instead of planting flowers and ferns, wagonloads of tin cans, ashes and rubbish are planted there daily. Some day we shall reap the harvest of that planting. Something ought to be done about this.

We believe the present city council is one of the best we've had in many years, especially the street department. We've seen more work done during this winter, to keep the streets in good order, than is usually done during a whole year. Don't forget boys, the citizens appreciate your efforts.

At the community dinner cards were passed out asking for suggestions to make New Castle a better and a more beautiful city. Doubtless the C. of C. received hundreds. We wonder will they carry out some of them. We think they will. A little effort and push on their part might get us a more respectable looking Penna. R. R. station. Many visitors see that place every day, and possibly it influences their appraisement of the city, and of the spirit of the citizens. Something ought to be done about this.

We have a fine police force in New Castle. If half the drivers of automobiles were half as good as the police force we would have fewer accidents. We have stop signs at various corners, which actually mean stop, if the law were enforced, but not one machine in ten stops. They get away with it daily. Nobody interferes. They laugh at pedestrians scurrying out of their way, to reach the other side in safety. We wonder, has His Honor the Mayor, revoked his order to arrest? Something ought to be done about this.

ABANDONED TRUNK IN DETROIT HOME REVEALS MYSTERY

Justify Arrest

Police announced they had found enough evidence in the trunk to justify the arrest of James H. Coyner, negro, who was an occupant of the house until nine months ago. He lived there with the owner of the house, Mrs. Sally Robinson, a negress. Mrs. Robinson was to be arrested.

Coyner was an army engineer with the A. E. F. Mrs. Robinson said she received a letter from Chicago containing a newspaper clipping which stated Coyner had been arrested in Palestine, Ill., for disturbing graves.

A check of the Illinois prisons failed to show that Coyner had been incarcerated there. This report, however, has led police to consider the ghoul theory.

The principal clue supporting the theory that the skulls had been collected by a brutal slayer was a bloodstained hair found in the trunk. This hair is red and long.

Efforts are to be made today to determine if the skulls are those of white persons or negroes. It was stated that the skulls were not a part of a physician's collection, as they were not bleached or otherwise treated as most physician's specimens are.

Wrapped in Newspapers

One of the skulls was wrapped in a Detroit newspaper of March 5, 1925. The others were wrapped in Pittsburgh papers of 1920 and 1921, and a portion of another Detroit paper which contained an account of the trial of Dr. Ossian H. Sweet, negro physician, who was defended by Clarence Darrow in a murder trial here.

Clippings from several Pittsburgh papers were found bearing pictures and names of prominent Pittsburgh women. Most of them had been penciled with numbers possibly indicating the phone number or street address. Further description was made through the use of such words as "baby", "girl" and "woman".

Among the names recorded were Mrs. Joseph Scribner, Mrs. Arthur Little, Mrs. A. B. Frampon, Mrs. Frank Barrington and Mrs. William Porter Witherow. These names appeared on the society page.

Is In Penitentiary

HAMMOND, Ind., Feb. 12.—James N. Coynes, negro, sought by police in connection with the discovery of four skulls in a trunk where he formerly lodged, is now serving a three to 10-year term in the Michigan City penitentiary for grave robbery.

Coynes was sentenced last December at Crown Point after he had exhumed the body of Miss Elizabeth See from a grave in Oak Hill cemetery here. He was apprehended while arranging with a teamster to remove the remains to a shack where he made his home.

Is Startled

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Feb. 12.—James N. Coynes, negro grave robber, appeared startled today when questioned in the Indiana penitentiary in connection with the discovery of four skulls in a Royal Oak, Mich., house where he formerly lived.

Coynes, who is serving a three to 10-year sentence for grave robbery, denied having lived in Royal Oak, but according to Deputy Warden H. Claudy seemed concerned over the charge.

Harlansburg High School Contestants Lose Decision Friday Night

Literary contest between the representatives of the Princeton and Harlansburg High School was held last night in the Princeton Presbyterian church in the presence of a large number of people.

It resulted in a victory for Princeton High, representatives of that school being adjudged winners in three of the four contests. All the events were closely contested and the judges were called upon to use their very best judgement in deciding upon the winners, so close were the contestants of the respective schools in merit in participating.

The judges were G. M. Barker, principal at Mt. Jackson High, Attorney C. A. Patterson of New Castle and Miss Mary McKelvey of New Wilmington High School.

Miss Ione Houk of Princeton High, was declared the winner in the oration contest; William Braden of Princeton High in the essay contest and Miss Ruth Kelland of Princeton High, in the declamation event.

Harlansburg High representatives won the debate, however, and this greatly pleased their supporters. The Harlansburg High representatives were Miss Jessie Dean and Miss Florence Aiken and they had the negative side of the question under debate.

Hart was represented in court by Attorney George A. Whitley, who denied all allegations of desertion and cruelty made by Mrs. Hart.

While Mrs. Hart denied she had signed a contract for picture work, it was understood from her circle of friends that she had offers to re-enter film work immediately and they also declared Mrs. Hart's salary would be more than a hundred thousand dollars a year.

Mrs. Hart, known to screen fans as Winifred Westover, was originally discovered by D. W. Griffith and began pictures in 1917 with Bessie Love and Mildred Harris. She met Bill Hart when they both played roles in "Petticoat Blues". They were married after a season spent by Mrs. Hart in Sweden.

Farm Relief Showdown To Come Monday

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Farm bloc leaders today tentatively decided upon a program which is expected to bring a showdown upon the McNary-Haugen farm relief plan in the house on Monday.

Under the plan the rules committee will be requested to grant a special rule permitting substitution of the senate bill for the measure now being debated in the lower body. All senate amendments will be accepted by the farm bloc.

This procedure is designed to prevent the bill from being sent to conference and killed through a filibuster in the senate in the closing days of the congress.

The devotional period was led by Mrs. Margaret Shields. Misses Mildred Layton and Dorothy Meyers gave a piano solo. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

At the next meeting in March the Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. L. B. Barlett of Moody avenue. Election of officers will feature the meeting.

Section F

Section F of the Y. L. B. class met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. James B. Kennedy, East Washington street with the devotional period led by Mrs. L. M. Mershimer.

During the social hour several solo numbers were given by Mrs. L. A. Sherman. The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. O. Z. Fisher of Wilson avenue on February 24. A tureen dinner will be served at this time.

Golden Eagles Ladies

Ladies of the Golden Eagles will meet Monday evening at 7:30 in the McGoun hall. Following the business session there will be a euchre for members and friends.

Triangle Club.

Regular meeting of the Triangle Missionary club took place Friday evening in Central Christian church with Miss Anna Phelps and Mrs. W. J. Wilcox in charge. The business meeting was in charge of Miss Barbara Armstrong with Miss Dorothy Price, program leader.

Interesting talks on China were given by Ruth Leslie, Luella Rigby, Miriam Rigby, Barbara Armstrong and Wilda Yongling. Miss Anna Phelps also gave a pleasing talk on the life and works of Dr. Shelton, missionary in Tibet.

A duet number was given by Miss Anna Phelps and Mrs. W. J. Wilcox. The next meeting will take place the second Friday in March.

Personal Mention

Mrs. James Rollings of Cumberland, Md., is visiting her daughter Mrs. D. J. Gittings, Butler avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crowley of Avenmor, Pa., have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Campbell, N. Ray street.

Billy Reinhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Reinhart of Oak street is undergoing treatment in the Allegheny General hospital.

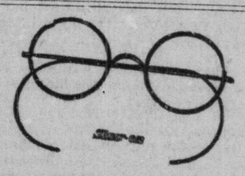

SOCIETY

Norman VanBrocklin of Fairmont avenue, left Friday for Ann Arbor, Michigan, where he will enter the pre-law school of the University of Michigan. He studied at Westminster College previous to leaving to enter the Michigan school.

Harlansburg W. C. T. U.

The regular monthly meeting of the Harlansburg W. C. T. U. was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Margaret Cunningham. Mrs. Anna Turner was the leader and conducted the devotionals.

Subject for discussion was "Why we Celebrate Frances Williard's Birthday?" Roll call was answered by quotations from Frances Willard. Music was given by Miss Marjorie Cunningham. Bible questions were conducted by the Evangelistic superintendent, Mrs. Sarah Burton. Sentence prayers by members of the Union closed the program.

At a short business session conducted by the president, it was decided to send one dollar to the Lillian Stevens fund and two dollars to the Frances Willard Memorial fund.

There were 28 members, 3 visitors and 4 children present. The hostess served dainty refreshments assisted by her aids, Mrs. Laura Burnsides, Miss Bell Brant, Miss Margaret McCalmont and Miss Ruth Burnsides.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sara Harlan.

WELCOME PRINCE WILLIAM

NEW CASTLE citizens today are honored with a visit from H. R. H. Prince William of Sweden. The city as a whole is delighted to extend a welcome to the noted visitor.

Not only is Prince William received gladly as a representative of one of the leading nations of the world, but New Castle is gratified to extend to the royal visitor a personal welcome as a tribute to his worth as a man, and to his accomplishments and achievements as an individual.

LINCOLN'S ELOQUENCE

IN RECENT years we have been accustomed to having our presidents speak on a great variety of topics. Thus we become acquainted with their views and abilities outside the realm of purely political matters.

It happens that the utterances of Abraham Lincoln outside his political deliverances are meager. His debates with Stephen A. Douglass, in which he gained fame as a speaker, and his Cooper Union address, in which he introduced himself to the East, dealt with issues long since passed away. His skill as a political orator was generally recognized but his reputation for eloquence in other lines was gained late and is founded on limited productions. The mass of his utterances while president had to do with the prosecution of the war. While clear and succinct they gave little opportunity for demonstration of his real powers of composition.

Possibly the fact that Lincoln's entire time was taken up with the prosecution of the war, and that the demands of the conflict submerged every other interest, may be responsible for Lincoln's failure to leave more examples of his ability to say the proper word in the happiest way. That he had few equals, perhaps no superior, in facility of expression is now acknowledged. And this verdict of posterity, for it was not promptly recognized at the time, rests on two productions — the Gettysburg address and the second inaugural.

In an address at Cambridge University some years ago Earl Curzon in citing supreme masterpieces of English eloquence mentioned three. One of these was the toast of William Pitt following the battle of Trafalgar. The others were the two efforts of Lincoln noted above. For sympathetic expression of condolence the Mrs. Bixby letter is not less a model. Outside his political utterances Abraham Lincoln did not leave a mass by which we may judge of his ability in expression but what he did leave is enough to stamp him a master of English eloquence.

PRESIDENT'S PLEA FOR NAVAL LIMITATION

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S invitation to the naval powers of the world to join the United States in further limitation of naval armaments is one which it will be impossible for them to belittle and difficult to evade.

His call contains a definite proposal—the extension of the 5-5-3 tonnage ratio now applied to the battleships and aircraft carriers of the British Empire, United States and Japan to cruisers, destroyers and submarines. The ratio for France and Italy in these classes would be left for separate determination.

The proposal adheres to the established naval policy of this nation and should receive universal indorsement.

Now that the United States has opened negotiations for the further limitation of naval armaments among the maritime powers of the world, all disputed issues should end immediately so that this work may not be hampered in any way. If they fail, it will be time enough to proceed with a definite building plan. Indeed, it could not be avoided.

WHEN YOU OWE MILLIONS

YOUNG CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, JR., who lost $3,000,000 in tabloid newspapers and is now housekeeping for himself in a two-room New York flat while he tries to pay off his debts, comes in for a great deal of sympathy.

A published account of his sad fate recently brought him, the next day, an offer from a negro woman to cook for him gratis, a free meal ticket from a World War comrade, an invitation from a minister to preach to his congregation and pocket the collection, 35 offers of business opportunities, 40 offers of free dental service and several dozen offers from women, old and young, to keep his flat in order.

That is very kind of them all. There is a surprising amount of generosity in this supposedly selfish world. It's a curious thing, though, how people are inclined to loosen up particularly for a person accustomed to wealth, or one who owes much. Get deeply enough in debt, and you'll have plenty of sympathy.

How many of these good people would make the same offer to a fellow who had never had a chance, or who owed $3,000 instead of $3,000,000? Or to one of the unlucky creditors?

SNOWFALL

There is fresh linen on the earth today,
A smooth white covering where the roses sleep.
No fretful dreams disturb their slumbers deep.
The eye can see no sign of disarray,
No evidence of anguish or display
Of tumblings and of tossings, such as sweep
The beds which weary, troubled mortals keep,
Waiting the morning's first faint streak of gray.

I look upon this glistening counterpane
Smoothed o'er the poppies and the mignonette
And know that while life throbs the wish is vain
So restful and so fair a couch to get.
Man for his slumber no such splendor knows
As that which winter spreads above a rose.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:31. Sun rises tomorrow 6:57.

Every time we tell anybody what nice weather we are having they come back with, "Yes, but I'm afraid that we will pay up for it later." It seems mighty hard to be satisfied with what we have, and still to be optimistic of the future.

Mercer county officials paid a visit to our county home yesterday and decided that it was about the finest that they had ever seen. Everybody seems to agree that it is a fine place, yet mighty few want to call it their home.

Several Pittsburgh boys traded their school books to buy movie tickets. As a matter of fact that sort of boy would probably get just as much benefit out of the movies as he would out of the books.

Farmers have called upon Sheriff Reynolds to annihilate the "petting" parties, and he says he is going to do it. When we were young we did our petting on the parlor sofa, and were never molested, axcept occasionally about 3 a. m. when mother called that it was time for daughter to look at the buckwheat batter crock to see that it wasn't running over.

It doesn't always pay to be kind and charitable. Try wrapping your scarf about a poor naked knee you see on the street.

We were considerably surprised recently in running across a listing of the seven vices pretty generally accepted by the dictionaries which mentioned specifically "pride, covetousness, lust, anger, gluttony, envy and sloth, to note that thirst was not included in the summary.

Governor Fisher doesn't seem to be in accord with the orgy of proposed salary raising. Possibly he thinks that when a man accepts an office at a certain salary he is in duty bound to abide by that salary or resign his position. There are thousands who would be glad to take the jobs at present salaries.

It is difficult to figure what a perfectly amazing lot of dirt those old-fashioned skirts must have picked up, in the good old days when one observes, as we of the older and perhaps more thorough school, do, what an accumulation of foreign matter is collected on a muddy day by a pair of those flesh colored stockings.

Two dog catchers at Swissvale have been discharged from their positions by the burgess for clubbing to death 21 dogs. That is rather a harsh way to treat the animals. It isn't necessary to be cruel to dogs if your duty requires you to kill them.

That Akron, O., judge who personally spanked a wife beater, has become famous throughout the country. In fact he can get a contract for vaudeville appearances that will pay him almost as much as the channel swimmers make.

One month today and we will be watching the birth columns of the News for March 12 babies. Each baby in the county will get five dollars in gold as a start on its fortune. And we don't intend to raise the cost of our products to get the money back either.

As many automobiles as we have every year and getting to be known under names as they are we have yet to see one of the names equal in imaginative genius as any of the names invented by the Pullman car people or the collar makers.

A noted jurist recently declared that innocent men are seldom imprisoned. They share about the same immunity as the guilty.

The Maine Democrats are reported to be discussing very seriously what candidate for president their delegates shall support at the next national convention. If there were any chance of the state giving him its electorial vote, the influence they can exercise on the choice might be greater.

The consumption of cigarettes in this country is now two a day per capita, but that does not mean that the average cigarette smoker confines himself to such a beggarly allowance.

Last Monday was the Chinese New Year. We can think of several good resolutions that would be very appropriate.

Our expert swimmers will soon be sighing because there are no more channels to conquer.

It is now claimed the college styles are not worn by college men. This makes it harder than ever to know a college man when you see one.

Speaking of Mr. Butler's speech a few days ago, let us remind the venerable Columbia president that the country has been extremely prosperous under the Coolidge administration and the people care far more for a continuation of that prosperity than they do for any mouldy theory concerning third terms. And then there is no admission on the part of anyone that another election for the Silent One would constitute a third term.

Those people who divorce and remarry within an hour or a few days must have all arrangements made before the judge gives the final words. Uniformity of divorce and marriage laws, preventing just such things, is one law that we would like to see the assemblies of all 48 states enact, and then get France to go along.

This is Lincoln's birthday and as the years roll on he becomes a greater man in the public mind and we honor his memory more and more. There has never been produced but one Lincoln and years and years will pass before there is another.

In an orange eating contest one man disposed of 65 and the next highest 63. Any kind of a contest these days gets you notice. But a contest in drinking bootleg the coffin always wins.

The Texas assembly expelled two of its members for accepting bribes and the votes were 133 to 4 and 119 to 15. That's being very harsh to poor struggling assemblymen trying to make a living out of their positions.

Success is the luck your friends think you have.

We have had reported enough robins, snakes and worms to have spring right at our back door, and now we are told that the mosquitoes are mobilizing for the summer out near the paper mill. We're always glad to shake hands with the robins but we favor an amendment to the constitution keeping the "skeeters" away forever.

A reception is something a woman hates to go to but is highly indignant if she isn't invited to it.

A clergyman once attacked Wendell Phillips for causing what he called an unfriendly agitation in one part of the country about an evil that existed in another part.

"Why do you not go south and kick up this fuss, and leave the north in peace?" exclaimed the accuser.

Mr. Phillips was not in the least ruffled, but said smilingly, "You, sir, are a minister of the gospel, are you not?"

"I am, sir."

"And your calling is saving souls from hell?"

"Exactly."

"Well, then, why don't you go there?"

What New Castle needs is an automobile that has sense enough to detour when it comes to a pedestrian.

Heard in the Leslie Hotel lobby: "How is it that you, who are so lucky at cards, always lose at the horse races?"

"I can't shuffle the horses."

Red is a sign of danger, but men don't pay any more attention to the warning on a girl's lips than they do to the sign at the grade crossing.

THOUGHT IT A TOY

Even smart men make mistakes. On his 91st birthday anniversary Chauncey Depew told the friends gathered at his annual birthday dinner that "In 1876 I was offered one-sixth interest in the Bell Telephone Company and declined, because a great electrical expert of that day told me the telephone was a toy". That lack of faith cost him more than one-sixth of a billion dollars, but as he is well fixed anyhow, what's the difference?

THE DAY'S WORK

The day's work counts—it isn't much,
The gain of those few painful hours,
But be content if there is shown
Some product of those sacred powers
Which guide each mind—uphold each hand
Strive with the best at your command,
The day's work counts.

A man uses a handkerchief about as big as a bed sheet and a woman uses a handkerchief about the size of a postage stamp. So where's all this sex equality that we hear so much about? Answer me that, if you can?

The radio will never appeal to a number of women here until they can get as interesting stuff over it as they do on a party line.

If China Could Fly.
Horses Will Go.
Babe Ruth and Milton.
Is Dead, at Last.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

North China is sending four great armies against the Cantonese, who think they should run the country, and throw out foreigners. The big armies are picking their way south by different roads and bad roads.

Think what it would mean for those Chinese generals if they had five millions of the twenty-two million automobiles running in the United States and roads such as we have here!

And think especially what it would mean if those Chinese of the north had a big flock of flying machines and pilots to run them!

An intelligent Britisher named Ponsonby, who has been lecturing here, sometimes talks about war, and says the next war will be different from all others. Instead of interesting fighting men only it will affect and menace every man, woman and child.

It will be entirely a war from the air. And where flying machines dropped two or three hundred bombs in the experimental flying stage of the great war, in the next war they will drop 10,000 bombs and wipe out entire cities.

They will find our American cities quite ready to be wiped out and thoroughly unprotected, if they come in this direction.

Williae Durlamb, president of a riding school, retiring, says the automobile will never replace the saddle horse. Nevertheless, the saddle horse will vanish, and be only a memory to children of today's children.

When the musket came in, men thought it couldn't take the place of bow and arrow. And, of course, it couldn't possibly replace the hawk that rode out on its owner's wrist and flew up to bring down the game bird.

The horse will linger on farms for a while and then disappear, as farming becomes really scientific. The work that requires three hundred days of the farmer's time now, will be done in about forty days or less. And the "horse" will be a machine, run by gas, electricity or wireless.

Babe Ruth simply won't play baseball any more unless they send him a better contract than one he just received. It gives him only $52,000 a year, which is pitiful when you consider how hard he hits the ball when he does hit it.

That is barely two thousand dollars a week, and gives him only a few months in the late fall, winter and early spring for other money earning.

The thoughtless may point out that Babe Ruth gets, in one year, for hitting that ball, about a thousand times as much as Milton got for writing "Paradise Lost." That is no argument. For one American that wants to read "Paradise Lost" at least a million want to see Babe Ruth play baseball.

That the world court was dead for this country, almost everybody knew as soon as some senators were thrown out of the window. Even the world court die-hards realize that the whole thing is ended now and admit it.

Britain refuses to accept terms on which wefoolishly consented to enter the court, and submit our affairs to a bench packed ten to one against us. Even Senator Lenroot doesn't think this country will offer to modify its world court reservations. Let's hope it won't. If it does, heaven help senators that vote that way.

William Rogers says kings have no jesters now, because they don't need them. In his speech at the opening of Parliament, King George said, "My relations with China are friendly and I have dispatched warships there to express my good feeling."

That sounds like saying, "My relations with the rats are friendly, and I have put poison in the kitchen to prove it."

However, the king has no more to do with sending warships to China than have the mice in the cellar of Buckingham palace. The British have a real democracy, with the king for a convenient ornament.

Premier Baldwin writes a speech and the king reads it.

Of 118,000,000 Americans, only 3,000,000 own stocks or bonds. Those happy few received in 1924 dividends amounting to four thousand three hundred and thirty-eight millions. Not much, divided among so many, only about $1,200 to each, but some got more than others.

The small number of stockholders, estimated by the American Bankers' Association, is encouraging to brokers and those that have good stocks and bonds for sale.

Wages are high, money is piling up in the savings banks, millions that own no stocks could own them, if proper inducements as to return and safety were offered.

R. Fulton Cutting, who has donated $250,000 to aid the work of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, is a member of one of the old and wealthy families of New York. His fortune and personal service for many years have been dedicated to civic betterment. Modern methods dealing with poverty, of housing urban dwellers, of governing cities by sensible adjustments, and reducing systems of education to more practical ends have had his personal backing and financial support. Much of his attention has been given to organization and equipment of the American Museum of Natural History. For several years he was the main backer of the Municipal Bureau of Research. Mr. Cutting's latest gift is the largest single donation ever made to aid the work of cancer research.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

BLUE LAWS AND "DORA".

I see that certain members of the Pennsylvania Legislature are again seeking to obtain a repeal of the old "Blue Laws" of Pennsylvania, or at least a modification of them. Pennsylvania is not the only Sovereign State that makes laws, and goes off and forgets them, and while they are on the Statute books, permits certain officials, for reasons known only to themselves, to insist upon their enforcement, while in the main the laws remain a dead letter. The observance of the Christian Sabbath in Pennsylvania is a curious thing. The Strict Churchman today has no compunction about taking a motor ride on Sunday afternoon, for pleasure's sake, but he strenuously objects to a baseball game or a golf game or a something of the kind,—things in which he has no particular interest, or things which he differentiates from his motor driving, salving his own conscience concerning the use of his motor, but condemning his neighbor for playing some other game.

The English Parliament does enact laws occasionally, and particularly during the War were many Acts added to the Statute Books of Great Britain. "As far as we know, the Great War is still on," British candy stores and tobacco dealers say. Although the war has been over nearly a decade, police still carry out the Defense of the Realm Act, popularly called "Dora" which regulates consumption of commodities such as cigarettes, candy, and fruit. These restrictions cover hundreds of pages, and were devised by shell-shocked patriots to husband foodstuffs. After the war they became entirely futile, a field for silly bureaucratic authority and a constant irritant to the public.

"Dora" restrictions should be immortalized in a Gilbert and Sullivan opera. Some kinds of fruits and vegetables cannot be sold after 8 o'clock in the evening. For the

JAPAN

The death of the Emperor of Japan called universal attention to that remarkable country.

No country in the world perhaps has made so rapid progress during the last generation as Japan.

Taking into consideration the age of the Japanese Empire, the visit of Commodore Perry to that country, compelling Japan to open intercourse with the other nations was very recent.

Previous to 1889 Japan was an absolute monarchy. It had been for centuries drilled into thinking monarchial ideas. Since 1889 it has had a constitution.

The Emperor is still held to be sacred and inviolable and exercises the whole of the executive powers, but he is supposed to use this power with the advice and consent of the Cabinet Ministers.

Japan has a House of Peers and a House of Representatives.

It is the home of the old-fashioned Shintoism and Buddhism, but yet religion is entirely free and Christians are at liberty to preach their gospel as much as they wish.

English is required in all of the schools.

Although the action of America in regard to land and immigration laws is held by many to be hostile, yet the Japanese are a remarkably self-restrained people. Only a small group of anti-American agitators exist in Tokio and Yokohama, but this group is discouraged by the government and opposed generally by the press.

The United States has been recognized as Japan's best customer, as it takes about 45 per cent of her exports and supplies about 30 per cent of her imports.

It is only in 1852 that Commodore Perry opened that country to commerce and since then the Japanese people have risen with remarkable rapidity to take their stand among civilized nations.

Of course their ideas and training are different from our, but that is no sign that they are any worse. Japan has made great strides in educating her common people and in extending the franchise.

Only recently the news came that Baron Ryochi Kujo, who is a brother of the Empress, is working as a poorly paid clerk and takes orders from everybody but the office boy in the institution, where he gets only $50 a month, in order, he claims, "to find out how the common people make a living." The Baron likes his job. He is a faithful worker and is always on time. One of the saving graces of the Japanese people is that they are fond of work.

Work and aristocracy hardly go together, as all noble orders since the foundation of the world have been orders of noble loafers.

Work and democracy will be found to progress hand in hand.

POEMS HOME — BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"Kubla Khan," by Samuel T. Coleridge.

This great poem, as everyone knows, is only a fragment—the result of a dream. Coleridge, during a slight illness, and while staying on a lonely farm between Porlock and Linton, fell asleep in his chair, and this he has written of the poem's composition: "On awakening, the writer appeared to himself to have a distinct recollection of the whole poem, and taking his pen, ink and paper, instantly and eagerly wrote down the lines that are here preserved. At the moment he was unfortunately called out by a person on business, and detained by him above an hour, and on his return to his room, found, to his no small surprise and mortification, that though he still preserved some vague and dim recollection of the general purport of the vision, yet, with the exception of some eight or ten scattered lines and images, all the rest had passed away." Thus the world lost the complete version.

In Xanadu did Kubla Khan
A stately pleasure-dome decree:
Where Alph, the sacred river, ran
Through caverns measureless to man
Down to a sunless sea.
So twice five miles of fertile ground
With walls and towers were girdled round:
And there were gardens bright with sinuous rills
Where blossomed many an incense-bearing tree;
And here were forests ancient as the hills,
Enfolding sunny spots of greenery.

But oh! that deep romantic chasm which slanted
Down the green hill athwart a cedarn cover!
A savage place! as holy as enchanted
As e'er beneath a waning moon was haunted
By woman wailing for her demon-lover!
And from this chasm, with ceaseless turmoil seething,
As if this earth in fast thick pants were breathing,
A mighty fountain momently was forced;
Amid whose swift half-intermitted burst
Huge fragments vaulted like rebounding hail,
Or chaffy grain beneath the thresher's flail;
And 'mid these dancing rocks at once and ever
It flung up momently the sacred river.
Five miles meandering with a mazy motion
Through wood and dale the sacred river ran,
Then reached the caverns measureless to man,
And sank in tumult to a lifeless ocean:
And 'mid this tumult Kubla heard from far
Ancestral voices prohesying war!

The shadow of the dome of pleasure
Floating midway on the waves;
Where was heard the mingled measure
From the fountains and the caves.
It was a miracle of rare device,
A sunny pleasure-dome with caves of ice!
A damsel with a dulcimer
In a vision once I saw:
It was an Abyssinian maid,
And on her dulcimer she played,
Singing of Mount Abora.
Could I revive within me
Her symphony and song,
To such a deep delight 'twould win me
That with music loud and long,
I would build that dome in air,
That sunny dome! those caves of ice!
And all who heard should see them there,
And all should cry, Beware! Beware!
His flashing eyes, his floating hair!
Weave a circle round him thrice,
And close your eyes with holy dread,
For he on honey-dew hath fed,
And drunk the milk of Paradise.

News Notes Of Happenings In Various Cities Of Keystone State

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 12.—Listed on the police books as being unable to show a residence or visible means of support, Demorine Ewart faces an indefinite sentence in the custody of City Detective James Swearingen of the motorcycle squad.

Demorine is exactly 10 days old, and she was deserted in the Pennsylvania station here with a note pinned on her clothing, giving her name and time of last meal. Taken to a founding home by Swearingen, the detective found the babe so cute he plans to take out adoption papers.

JEANNETTE—Police here have been notified of the arrest of Samuel M. Adams, 18, of Jeannette, at Providence, R. I., where, it is charged, the youth sought to raise funds with which to enter Brown University by forging a number of checks. When arrested Adams said he was a member of a prominent Jeannette family. A checkup revealed his former residence here, but police have located no relatives.

ROCHESTER — Beaver river valley's "praying bandit," giant negro whom a small army of volunteers, state police and detectives have sought for the past four days, is still at large, police believe, despite more than a dozen arrests of suspects, and innumerable reports from widely separated parts of the district that the bandit is in custody. The negro gained his title by quoting Scriptures while robbing his victimes.

DORMONT — While Dormont's volunteer firemen aided in fighting flames that razed Administration Hall of the Pennsylvania Training school at Morganza, near here, the Dormont borough council met here and voted to notify the firemen their services are no longer required by the borough. The ouster is the result of a letter written by members of the fire department protesting against the council's having appointed a non-volunteer to the position of acting fire chief during the chief's recent illness.

PHILADELPHIA — A woman "fire fan" is alleged to have been responsible for five false fire alarms here in the past fortnight. Each time, pedestrians have reported, seeing an elderly woman, dressed in old fashioned clothes, depart hurriedly, from the fire box just before the firemen arrived.

READING—Tear gas pistols, may be one of the chief weapons of the local police in the near future. Experiments are now being made in the use of the weapon. The gun hurls a capsule, releasing tear gas when it strikes. Two shots are said to be sufficient to quell a jail break.

POTTSVILLE — Seventeen children under 15 years of age, were left orphans by the death of three miners, who were killed in the recent gas explosion at the Phoenix Park colliery at Minersville. Two of the miners left six children each while the third left a family of five.

HARRISBURG — Falling more than 25 feet down an elevator shaft here John Gilment, 47, of Millerstown, near here, suffered internal injuries. The accident occurred when Gilment failed to see the elevator shaft in the Harrisburg grain company building and stepped from the second floor.

HARRISBURG—The Harrisburg school board would regulate the dress of high school girls by the adoption of a resolution. The board endorsed "dress reform" by passing a resolution for "the wearing of suitable, adaptable and more economical dress for junior and senior high school firms."

Dairymen's Meeting Addressed By Expert

GROVE CITY, Pa., Feb. 12.—Mr. S. J. Brownell, specialist from the Dairy Department at State College, Pa., addressed the meeting of the Mercer County Agricultural Extension association held last evening in the Commercial club rooms here in Grove City.

Mr. Brownell talked on bull association work and also the importance of cow-testing associations. He made an interesting survey of the results derived locally from bull association work, which was of much importance in the last few years.

Mr. Brownell's object is to form more associations among the dairymen and at least one additional cow-testing association in this county. The dairymen are very much pleased with the results of the last few years and it is quite likely that they will give heed to Mr. Brownell's advice.

For a number of years the local community has been united in its effort to produce and raise purebred cattle, and the farmers have derived much benifit from such clubs as, the cow-testing, association, the Boys' and Girls' Calf clubs, the Grove City Accredited Dairy Cattle Show and Sales association and the several Cattle Breeder associations.

ROTARY TROOP 1.

Rotary troop 1 held the regular meeting Thursday evening with twelve scouts present, also three visitors.

After the formal opening, followed by business activities, the troop discussed the new point system, which will decide the honor troop of New Castle.

A knot tying contest was held between two patrols headed by John Boston and Jack Stone. John Boston's patrol won this event.

The meeting was closed shortly after two basketball games were played, one between two teams of small scouts and one of the larger boys teams.

The meeting was in charge of Scoutmaster Kenneth Cotton and Assistant Scoutmasters Ben Wise and Marshal Matheny.

Troop Scribe, Paul McWilliams.

TROOP 15

The First Christian church troop 15, under Scoutmaster Sidney Smith held a very successful Valentine party, Thursday evening in the church. The hours were from 7:30 to 10:00. Each scout brought a friend with them making a total of 40 present.

The evening was spent in games and music. At a seasonable hour refreshments were served by Mrs. Sidney Smith and several assistants. The scouts wish to thank everyone who helped in any way to make this party the success it was.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, February 17. This troop is attempting to get five new scouts, so any boys desiring to become scouts are invited to be present at the next meeting.

Troop Scribe, George McCracken.

NEW BEDFORD TROOP 1

The regular meeting of this troop was held at the New Bedford school Thursday evening, February 10, with 16 members present. The meeting was in charge of Scoutmaster Irwin Ropp. Mr. Clark, William Clark and Mr. Hoye were visitors.

First Class First Aid was passed by Frank Preu. Instructions in Compass were given by Patrol Leader Herbert Boyd and First Class First Aid by Senior Patrol Leader Ted Ropp. A new game was played which required that all boys know how to tie all the Tenderfoot knots. Wylie Wallace and Ted Ropp were captains, with Wallace's team winning by a score of 4-1. A point system is used by the patrols. The Fox patrol, with William Hoye as leader ranks first; the Eagle patrol, with Melvin Moorehouse as leader, ranks second.

The leading feature of the next meeting will be observation. All scouts are requested to be present.

Scribe, Herbert Boyd.

TO RESUME WORK AT BIBLE HOUSE MISSION

L. Schmidt in charge of the Bible House Mission, 10 East North street, has now fully recovered from a recent illness and is now ready to conduct all the affairs at the mission.

On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock he will speak on the theme "Are the Kings of the East Preparing For the War of Armegeddon?" Euphrates the battle ground.

dealer to sell a tomato would be violating the law. A shopper, for example, at 8:05 P. M. cannot buy grape fruit, but he can buy green figs, strawberries, and such other fruits as happen to have been omitted from the list. The eight o'clock hour also applies to the sale of tobacco. You can buy cigars and cigarettes up to eight P. M. week days, and as a special concession up till nine on Saturdays. You can buy cigarettes if you are taking a meal at any time. But a judge has decided that a sandwich does not constitute a meal. Thus to buy cigarettes and eating as little as a sandwich would be an offense. Although a dealer cannot sell you cigarettes out of nursery hours, you can buy them at any time day or night from slot machines. But in a restaurant a waiter is forbidden to point the machine out to you.

A cigar store dealer will refuse to sell you a cane or an umbrella on Sunday, explaining that while he can sell tobacco, he cannot sell any goods that stores closed that day ordinarily could sell. Relentless "Dora" even has an eagle eye for the sale of matches out of hours. Selling candy after 9:30 P. M. apparently imperils national security. Girls selling candies in theatres go about and inform people, just sitting down in their seats, that they must buy their sweets at once or go without. Dancing in a restaurant before midnight is perfectly proper. But after twelve P. M. in the eyes of austere "Dora" it becomes an offense. If you go to a cabaret in one of the many so-called private clubs, you can dance all night.

Drug stores are kept to strict hours, and on Sunday can only sell drugs. In order to sell Kodak films on Sundays they have had to introduce slot machines. It seems that a machine cannot sin nor upset "Dora".

Silly legislation does not end with "Dora". Saloons or "pubs" have closely restricted hours. It is aimed to keep them closed during working hours. But a man with a thirst can begin drinking at 11 or 11:30 A. M., and, if he chooses, has plenty of time to drink himself tight before the "pubs" close at 2:30 or 3:00 P. M. Local authorities have some latitude in determining hours. The result on Oxford Street in London, for example, is that "pubs" on one side of the street are open half an hour longer than on the other.

The London police have been perturbed about the disappearance of several ladies of prominence lately. The British people, excepting a few mossy bureaucrats, however, would breathe a sigh of relief if some patriot would stab, poison, or decapitate "Dora".

OUR IDEAL AMERICAN—

Uses his own conscience and not the mob's.
Does his own thinking and lets other people do theirs.
Is patient when their thinking does not agree with his.
Is not patriotic just because it is profitable.
Believes the success of the government depends upon the people's loyalty.
Asks nothing for himself that he would not grant to all Americans.
Knows that Americanism is not a mere name, but a vital spirit.

Van Sweringen Billion Dollar Railroad Merger Again Makes Appearance

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The Van Sweringen billion dollar railroad merger, turned down by the Interstate Commerce Commission some months ago, made its appearance in a new form late Friday, when the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad applied to the Interstate Commission for permission to acquire control of the Marquette lines through stock ownership.

The application of the Chesapeake & Ohio set forth in detail the method by which it is proposed to acquire stock control of the Erie and Pere Marquette.

In addition to the shares now owned outright, the Chesapeake & Ohio will purchase, subject to the commission's approval, shares of the Erie and Pere Marquette covered in options obtained from O. P. Van Sweringen. It will acquire from the Nickel Plate 174,900 shares of Pere Marquette common now under contract. Such additional shares of Pere Marquette will be purchased in order to give the Chesapeake & Ohio numerical majority of common stock in both roads.

A special commission representing the Chesapeake & Ohio fixed a price on all Erie shares covered in the Van Sweringen options at $34.50 a share on 345,239 shares of common; a fraction over $45.87 on 23,695 shares of first preferred, and $43.75 for 22,305 shares of second preferred. These shares at these prices aggregate $3,348-350 less than the market value at the close of the market January 31.

The practical effect of the new Van Sweringen plan is to make the Chesapeake & Ohio, instead of the Nickel Plate, the basis for the great system which the two brothers have projected.

The petitioners set forth that the unification of systems proposed is greatly to the public interest.

"Such unification will encourage industrial development, as it will provide a wider distributing territory and improved service", it said. "The lines of the railroad of the applicant and of the Erie and the Pere Marquette are complementary to and supplementary of each other, and, logically lend themselves to unification and operation as a single system."

No Developments In Mather Robbery

State Police Bring One Of Men Arrested Back To City Today

There are no new developments in the solution of the Mather Brothers company jewelry store robbery, Chief of Police Henry Dysart stated this morning. A trip was made to Clarion Friday and Earl and Hockman interviewed, but it was without result as far as the Mather robbery was concerned.

State police were in the city today with George Guy, one of the men arrested at Knox, Pa., in connection with the Clarion County National Bank robbery at that place. The reason for the bringing back of Guy has not yet been made known.

Literary Contests Held Last Night In Two Districts

Princeton And Plain Grove High Schools Are Contest Winners

Two more literary contests for county honors were held last night, one at Volant and the other at Princeton. Volant contested with Plaingrove high school, and lost all points to Plaingrove.

Princeton contested with Harlansburg. The debate was won by Harlansburg and the balance of the points by Princeton.

The programs consisted of an essay, oration, declamation and a debate. Instrumental music was furnished by orchestras at both places.

Names of the winners in the contests had not yet been received at the office of the county superintendent of schools at noon today.

Almira Home Ladies Enjoy Musical Treat

Ladies of the Almira Home enjoyed a musical given Friday evening by Rev. P. W. Quist, who is spending some time in this city. Mr. Quist played and sang a number of selections.

Among those especially enjoyed by the ladies were: "Open the Gates of the Temple," "Face to Face" and "The Old Rugged Cross." Mr. Quist sang the hymn," That Will Be Glory for Me," in three languages, English, Holland and German.

Mr. Quist came to this country from Holland 14 years ago.

Stolen Car Found Near Edenburg

The Chevrolet coach, 1927 model Pennsylvania license 577-785, and belonging to Carl W. Johnson of Greensburg, Pa., who is stopping at 506 South Pine street, this city, was stolen last night between 8:30 and 11:30 o'clock from the public square.

At noon today, a message was received by the police here to the effect that the machine was at the foot of the Edenburg hill, where several other stolen cars have been abandoned lately.

Officers Lynch and Longstreth were detailed to go and get it.

CAPTURED BY RADIO

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 12. — Descriptions, broadcast by radio, today landed John McKinley, 21, of New Derry, Pa., and John Jurysta, 20, of Butler, behind bars here on charges of holding up Burney's Men's shop here and escaping with $200. The youths, who are alleged to have placed pieces of wood in their overcoats to resemble revolvers, were arrested by state police in Latrobe, after descriptions of the two bandits were broadcast by a local station.

International Sunday School Lesson

Notes On Lesson By
George M. Landis, Pastor First Baptist Church, New Castle

February 20, 1927.
SERVING IN AND THROUGH THE CHURCH
Mat. 5:13-16: Acts 2:42-47.
Golden text: "We are laborers together with God," (1 Cor. 3:9).

We shall make but slight attempt to discuss the subject assigned by the Lesson Committee, as it seems ill fitted to the two passages chosen for our study. From whatever angle approached, these portions of the Word have much instruction for the child of God. Certainly the church, often called the body of Christ, is the Divinely appointed agency thru which the Christian should serve and worship God. Those who say that they can be as good Christians outside of the church as they can inside of it, generally amount to but little either place. They cast a reflection upon the wisdom of Jesus Christ, the Head and Founder of the church, which is, according to their reasoning, a useless and superfluous institution.

I. THE IDEAL CHRISTIAN (Mat. 5:13-16).

The primary application of this passage is to the citizens of Christ's Messianic Kingdom, which will someday be established on this earth. However its moral principles are true in every age, and these verses give a picture of the influence which every true Christian exerts in this world. He is like:—

1. Salt (vs. 13). The distinctive qualitites of salt, which are an illustration of the Christian's influence in the world, are:—

a. Permeation. As salt penetrates all things with which it comes in contact, so the Christian silently exerts a beneficent infuence upon the corrupt world about him. Practically all that is worth while in our modern civilization is the by-product of Christianity.

b. Purification. As salt purifies, so the Christian should by his life and testimony, have a cleansing effect upon his associates.

c. Preservation. Salt is one of the greatest preservatives known to man, preventing decay and putrefaction. We can little realize what would be the moral conditions of this world, were it not for the restraining power of God working thru His children. The hope of America is the fact that it has so many Christian people, otherwise, it would have perished as the nations of antiquity.

There are many professing Christians who have lost their savor, i. e., their lives are not exerting any beneficial influence upon the world about them. Many have become so entangled with the vain things of this sinful world, that they have no testimony for it.

2. Light (vs. 14-16). This world is in great spiritual darkness. Jesus Christ same as "the Light of the World" (John 8:12; 3:19-21). During this dispensation, when corporially Jesus Christ is absent from the world; the followers of Christ, who are indwelt by His Spirit, are the light of the world (Jn. 8:12; Eph. 5:8; 1 Thess. 5:5).

The Christian must be careful not to hide his light under the bushel of worldliness, selfishness, or neglect. Rather upon the candlestick of his appointed place of testimony, he must by lip and life allow his light to shine in the darkness round about him, that God may be glorified. As lights we must attract men, not to ourselves but to God. We yield reflected light only, therefore we have no occasion for boasting. The distinctive properties of light are that it:—

a. Reveals to makes manifest. Perhaps the best definition of light is that found in Eph. 5:13, "whatsoever doeth make manifest is light." As lights in the world, we reveal and make manifest the sin of the world, and also reveal to sinners the way of salvation.

b. Vivifies. The source of natural light is the sun. Its light gives life to the vegetable and animal world. So Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is the source of spiritual light and consequently of spiritual life (Jn. 8:12; 2 Tim. 1:10). Those who do not have Christ are without life (Jn. 3:36).

c. Purifies. Like salt, light is also a purifying agent. Nothing is a better preventative of disease than light, as is witnessed by the increased importance which is given to it by the theraputic science of today. Even so does the gospel light drive out the desease germs of sin thereby cleansing the soul.

d. Beautifies. Beauty could not be seen were it not for light, and there would be but little beauty to be seen, were it not for the light. So all beauty of life and character comes from the light of Christ (Psa. 19:17; 2 Cor. 3:18).

To be of any value, both salt and light must come into contact with corruption and darkness. The Christian must not withdraw from the world. To do so is to destroy his usefulness. There is no warrant in the Bible for monasticism.

II. THE IDEAL CHURCH (Acts 2:42-47).

The apostolic church on the day of Pentecost and shortly thereafter, gave a marvelous display of the graces which should be manifested in the church in every age. It was marked by:—

1. Steadfastness in doctrine (vs. 42). These first Christians were content to abide by the Word of God as revealed thru the apostels. There were no "modernists" in the first church. Notice that purity of doctrine is here mentioned first. It was the foundation of the gifts and graces which followed.

2. Steadfastness in devotion (vs. 42). Christian fellowship can only be present where there is purity of doctrine. Such fellowship centers around the observance of the Lord's Supper—"the breaking of bread." Such a life is sure to be a life of prayer. Many Christians are so busy in service that they neglect the devotional life, which is the source of strength for service.

3. Unusual power (vs. 43). A church which is steadfast in doctrine and devotion, will be a church which will inspire wonder because of the marvelous things that God will bring to pass thru its ministry. What we need in the church today is not a new Pentecost, but to be properly connected with first Pentecost, whose power and influence is still in operation thru the work of the Holy Spirit given on that day.

4. Unity and cooperation (vs. 44-45). Selfishness was obliterated and each one cared for the welfare of the other. No discord was manifested to do its schismatic work. The communistic program of this chapter was not followed out even by the apostolic church, neither was it anywhere enjoined upon the church. However, the spiritual believer will do all in his power to relieve the wants of those in distress (1 Jn. 3:17).

5. Jubilation (vs. 46-47). Little wonder that such a church should be filled with joy and praise. A high state of spirituality is always conductive to happiness. The joy of the Lord in the heart will shine forth in the face.

6. Mutliplication (vs. 47.) The testimony of this church was effective in the salvation of souls. Every day marked new accessions to their number. Such should be the condition of every church. We are allowing ourselves to confine our soul-winning activities to some particular season in the year. We fear that the tendancy to emphasize the "pre-easter campaign," is getting the church away from the spirit of continuous evangelism. Observe that it was the Lord that added to the church. As the Head of the church, He is the only one that can really add to it.

If he borrows on his life insurance, the chances are 367 to one that he is borrowing from his widow.

Steel Work Rising On Big Addition To Radiator Plant

Steel work on the huge addition to the plant of the National Radiator Company is being erected with speed these days, and every afternoon sees more gaunt steel ribs sticking up into the air. Ribs that will soon be covered to house an addition to one of New Castle's growing industries.

The addition to the present foundry is practically completed, and the main building, 900 feet long is being rushed to completion.

Within another month the new building will be in such shape that it will be not far from actual completion.

Famous Musical Comedy Coming Here On March 8

Arthur Hammerstein's internationally famous operetta "Rose Marie" will be seen as the attraction at the Scottish Rite Cathedral Tuesday night, March 8.

This musical comedy-melodrama, the only play of its kind ever produced in America, won its title to international fame from the fact that it was presented 681 consecutive times at the Imperial Theatre in New York, that in London it lifted the debt from the Drury Lane Theatre and paid a dividend to the stockholders of that historical playhouse—it is now in its third year—and also to the fact that the companies touring the United States and those touring the provinces of England invariably play to capacity audiences.

The book and lyrics of "Rose Marie" are by Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd; the music by Rudolf Friml and Herbert Stothart. The production is under the personal supervision of Arthur Hammerstein.

Fairview Grange Entertains Crowd

Westfield Grange Provides Program Of The Evening At Princeton

There was a good crowd in attendance last night at the presentation of the play, "Heiress Hunters" at the Princeton I. O. O. F. hall by Westfield Grange, under the auspices of Fairyiew Grange. It was the first of a series of plays to be presented by the Fairview Grange and it was so well received that there is talk of having it presented a second time at the same place in the course of a few weeks.

The cast proved equal to the occasion and the characters presented in the play were true to life. Adding to the success of the entertainment was the presence of a 14-piece orchestra from the Mt. Jackson High school.

Small Girl Is Struck By Auto

Olga Lucas, a small girl residing at 8 East Reynolds street, escaped serious injury Friday, when in crossing the street at South Mill and Reynolds street, she was struck by the car of F. J. Covert of 1902 Hamilton street. She was removed to the nearby office of a physician and examined and apparently she had escaped serious injury. Mr. Covert in trying to avoid striking the little girl, went up over the curb and struck the sign of the Atlantic Service station at that point. His machine was not badly damaged.

According to the report made to the police by Mr. Covert, the little girl started to cross the street directly in front of his machine which was being driven on Mill street at the time. She was struck by the left front fender and knocked to the street.

Schedule Given For Revenue Men

Government Representatives To Extend Aid To Income Taxpayers In County

"It's income tax time in America" is the title of a perennially popular song which is being sung at the present time by most everybody. It's the time to step into the government man's office and tell him all about yourself, how much you made last year and what exemption you really should get.

In order to accommodate the citizens of Lawrence county, D. B. Heiner, collector of internal revenue in Pittsburgh, has announced a list of dates of where the men will be and on what dates.

From February 15 to March 15 Marion S. Woods, deputy revenue collector, will be in the Union Trust Co. building on the second floor.

George J. Keuch will have the following schedule: Hillsville postoffice, February 16-17; Bessemer post office, February 18-19; Ellwood City fire station, February 21 to March 1; Wampum postoffice, March 2-3; seventh ward, Union Trust Company, March 4-5; New Wilmington postoffice, March 7, and in the New Castle office, in the Union Trust Company building, from March 8 to 15.

In order to avoid being overtime with your statement, it is suggested that you take care of it now.

Many Slogans Being Entered In Competition

Many hundreds of answers have been received at the Haney Furniture Company store in the contest now being conducted to secure a new store slogan.

A fine two-piece living room suite is the prize to be given the person selecting the best slogan for this store. The suite is now on display in the store window.

According to the Haney store, the slogan contest has been wonderful in arousing interest in the store, judging by the answers received. The contest will close this evening at nine o'clock, and the winner will be announced in Wednesday evening's News, February 16. The judges are three well-known men of the city.

Overnight Freight Service New Castle To Cleveland, O.

Merchants and manufacturers of New Castle and vicinity have been apprised by The Pennsylvania-Ohio Electric Company of the establishment of over-night electric freight service between New Castle and Cleveland and Akron. The service has already started. It not only means that shipments between these points made before 5 o'clock in the evening will be at their destination the next morning, but that shipments to and from more distant points such as Detroit, Mich., Ft. Wayne, Ind., and southern and western Ohio will be expedited a full day in delivery.

Under the new plan of service shipments for New Castle consignees delivered at the electric freight houses in Cleveland and Akron before 5 p. m. will come direct to New Castle, arriving here at 1 o'clock in the morning and being ready for delivery at the opening of business in the morning. Shipments made in New Castle will be received in Akron and Cleveland for delivery by 7 a. m.

Connections will be made with the Harmony in both directions, so that shipments leaving Cleveland at 6 o'clock in the evening will be in Pittsburgh at 11 o'clock the following morning.

The new service is in addition to the overnight service between New Castle and Youngstown and Warren, Ohio.

Young People's Night At Revivals

Large Number Of Young People Attend Service—Other News Of Seventh Ward

One of the largest audiences so far attending the revivals in the Madison avenue Christian church was present at the service in the church Friday evening. It was Young People's night at the service and a great many young people responded to the idea and was present. Rev. Van Winkle preached an appropriate sermon which was most interesting and inspiring.

There was a large young people's choir and the special music was a chorus number entitled "The Rallying Song of the Church." At the close of the service one young woman responded to the invitation and made confession of faith.

The service last evening concluded two weeks of special services. The services on Sunday in the church will begin the third and last week of the revivals. Rev. E. K. Van Winkle will preach at both morning and evening services.

Monday evening following the evangelistic meeting a baptismal service will take place. Tuesday evening a group of Welsh singers will be present and sing. At present all prospects are that this next week of special metings will be the greatest of them all.

Young Girl Writes Poem On Spring

Spring poetry is in season at the present time and the News is beginning to receive its annual contributions from those who feel the urge. The most recent contribution is from a 13 year old girl and is rather unusually well done for a youngster this age.

She is Miss Helen Oakley Seligh daughter of George D. Sleigh who has recently been named merchandise manager of the New Castle Dry Goods Company. The poem follows:

SPRING.

Oh wondrous Springtime
How do we know
When the Spring days are nigh?
All plants that grow
Show tiny spearlets
Of greenish hue,
The lakes reflect the Far skies of blue.
The birds sing sweetly
While Queen Spring reigns.
The golden daffodil
Sunshine enchains.

The pearly dew-drops
Lie on the grass,
Each one like sparkling
Beads of glass.
The brooklet murmurs
Across the stones
And laughs in low
Sweet silvery tones.
The warm soft breezes
Laden with some Of Springtime promises
Of what's to come.

Morganza School Building Burns

Loss Estimated At $200,000 Occurs In Administration Building

THREE FIREMEN SLIGHTLY HURT

(International News Service)

CANONSBURG, Pa., Feb. 12.—The administration building, four-story main structure of the Pennsylvania training school at Morganza, near here, was a mass of ruins today, gutted by flames which did damage estimated at $200,000. Invaluable records and papers were lost in the fire, which swept thru the 55 year old structure, fanned by a high wind last night.

Firemen, after exhausting the water supply in the school reservoir, were forced to pump water a quarter of a mile from Chartiers creek to the burning building, but were unable to make much headway against the flames.

Three firemen were slightly hurt in fighting the fire, and three others were partially overcome by smoke. Herbert Mackey, Robert Chambers and John Mackey, of the Canonsburg fire department suffered bruises and cuts, and Robert Miller, Albert Stuckie and Ralph Arnold, all of Canonsburg, were overcome by smoke.

Nearly 750 boys and girls, inmates of the institution remained in their quarters while firemen fought the blaze, only a few being allowed their liberty to serve coffee to the fire fighters.

Preliminary investigation indicated the fire was caused by defective wiring.

Superintendent W. F. Penn of the institution expects to make a complete report of the loss to the department of purchasing and supplies at Harrisburg tomorrow, he said, after which he said it would be determined if the structure is to be rebuilt.

Teachers Institute Is Well Attended

Shenango township teachers and school patrons held a very enjoyable and instructive institute at East New Castle high school Friday afternoon and evening. As a preliminary feature a literary and musical program was first given by pupils of the high school.

A round table discusssion Arithmetic Drills, was led by Mrs. Caroline Donley.

'Shall Discipline be Regid or Lax?" was discussed by Mrs. Margaret Campbell.

County Superintendent of Schools J. C. Syling discussed Departmental Work and Grading. This was followed by a question box.

Teachers and some of the directors then visited the new township high school in course of construction.

Upon their return they were served with dinner by the Ladies' Aid society at the home of Mrs. Frank Gibson.

The evening session was opened with devotional exercises by Assistant County Superintendent C. F. Ball.

A patriotic pageant was then put on by pupils of grades 3, 4 and 5 led by Mrs. Caroline Donley, teacher.

Wallace McCullough rendered a trombone solo accompanied by Prof. G. W. Johnston.

Benefits of a Parent Teachers association were discussed by James G. Houk, teacher of Hill school.

A French-Canadian dialect reading was given by Miss Lilian Mora. Miss Florence Nickel rendered a vocal solo accompanied by Miss Dorothy McKee.

The institute closed with a practical discussion of school work by Assitant County Superintendent C. F. Ball.

Rev. Bundy Talks On Immortality

"Trifling with Immortality," was the subject of the sermon delivered Friday evening by Rev. Morris W. Bundy in the Dewey avenue Free Methodist church.

"No Man cared for my Soul," the evangelist said was the heart cry of a discouraged man, which is not literally true, but in the dark hour when the enemy is on the sinner's heels he feels as though forsaken by God. God cares for every soul and so does every real Christian.

Sixty Eight Dead Dogs Found In City

Sixty-eight dogs were found on city streets and incinerated at the municipal garbage plant, according to a report to be delivered to city council, Monday, by Howard Phillips. Six dead felines were also found and burned in the furnace.

Institute Held In Wayne Township On Friday Evening

Wayne township teachers and patrons held an institute last evening at the Bell Memorial church. It was well attended by school patrons and an interesting program was rendered.

"Americanization in Primary Grades" was discussed by Miss Lillian Atkins.

"Americanization in Middle Grades" was explained by Miss Josephine Tillia.

The same subject in upper grades was discussed by T. E. Boliver of Butler township, Butler county. Mr. Boliver is principal of the Lyndora schools, where out of an enrollment of some 1,300 there are less than 100 American children.

A reading was given by Miss Catherine Dindinger and a song by two little girls from Park Gate school, whose names were not learned.

The institute closed with a discussion by County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling.

Report Is Given On Educational Meeting

New Castle Pupils' Work To Be Exhibited At Dallas Convention

Terrace Avenue School has received another honor for her art department in that some 70 specimens of grades 5 and 6 have been selected for the Art Exhibit of the National Education Association Convention to be held at Dallas, Texas, the last of this month.

In addition to the specimens from the Terrace Avenue School there are two blotters, one from the class of Miss Blucher at the Aiken School and one from the class of Miss Cooley at the Highland Avenue School.

These productions of art done by the scholars of grades 5 and 6 will be sent at once to Dallas, Texas, and there placed in an exhibit made up of selections from all over the United States.

The specimens from the Terrace Avenue School are made up of ten different kinds of painting and cut-out products. They have been done entirely by the boys and girls of these two grades under the direction of their teacher Miss Helen Ryan.

Miss Anna R. Perry, principal of Terrace Avenue School says that she attributes the success of Miss Ryan as a teacher of art to the preparation she gives each lesson. Miss Ryan has had no special training in art except that which she has received from Miss Solomon, the director of art in the New Castle schools. But, says Miss Perry, Miss Ryan every day before she gives a lesson in art goes over the subject thoroughly seeing where changes should be made and improvement can be made over the instruction of the week or year before. Miss Ryan has had charge of the art for several years now and the product of the children's work shows that she knows how to get the best from the scholars.

The specimens that are being sent to Dallas include painted flower subjects, flower cut-outs, complimentary landscapes, naturalistic landscapes, analagous landscapes, black and white landscapes, snow scenes, blotter ends and corners, and folders of interior decorations. They are all of the highest grade and certainly deserve the honor that they are receiving.

From the first grade through to the sixth grade special attention is given to the work the children do in the art department. It was in the first grade that the little girl won the high honor last year in making the safety poster that received the prominent place in the safety calendar put out by the Carnegie Steel Company.

KING ASKS SALARY CUT

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Feb. 12.—Proving that Denmark has no lessons to take from any other nation in regard to governmental economy, King Christian has just requested the government to cut 10 per cent from his salary and from the maintenance allowances paid all the members of the royal house. The king, in his request, stated that he wished to take a part in the Danish national economic reconstruction.

On Th' Aget' Marry

SWEARIN' AWAY TH' LAST FEW YEARS OF HIS LIFE.

"Th' ideal age fer marriage is about twenty-nine fer th' groom an' around twenty-four fer th' bride, says a Philadelphy authority, but after devotin' over a half century in threshin' out th' domestic troubles o' married people I'd like t' say that marriage is a blamed risky proposition at any age t' either party t' th' contract," declares 'Squire Marsh Swallow. "Out o' thirty-one cases that come before my domestic relations tribunal in December, twenty-nine couples wanted t' split up on account o' gittin' on each other's nerves, an' th' other two on account o' gittin' in each other's way. Marriages used t' last longer when th' husbands worked till 6 p. m. an' wives kept house an' washed ther own hair. Very few people tried t' look purty after they got married. One o' th' great disturbin' elements in married life t'day is th' determination t' keep young an' beautiful. Before th' employment o' women an' girls in down town offices an' stores I handled very few divorce cases in which jealousy played any part. Th' charges wuz allus brutality, failure t' provide, an' lack o' nutrition, an' now an' then a desertion or two. I've divorced some o' th' best people in this county in my time. I've divorced 'em that'd married at seventeen, an' I've divorced 'em that married at twenty-five, an' thirty, an' thirty-five, an' as high as sixty up t' seventy, an' I can't say what age makes th' biggest mess o' marriage. Th' big, essential thing t' a long, happy marriage is havin' enough money t' buy th' things that are essential t' happiness. Too much money, or not enough money, 'll wreck th' most promisin' couple in two years, or two an' one-half years at th' most. Beauty fades, an' charmin' personalities finally git tiresome. Clothes an' diversion keep couples married. Once in a long, long time we'll find a couple still holdin' out an' apparently livin' happy t'gether on nothin', but they're as scarce as Edisons an' Burbanks. All those contemplatin' matrimony at any age should know all about th' cost o' livin'. Th' mere fact that some feller is a clean, honest, hard workin' young man hain't enough. He should have it drummed int' him jest what it's goin' t' cost him t' stay married. An' jest because a girl is an industrious, lovin', sensible daughter hain't enough. She should be enlightened as t' what it costs t' look presentable around th' feet these days. Th' cost o' sustainin' a home or an apartment, should be given publicity through our schools an' churches an' films. Marriage is a troublesome question, any way you look at it, an' after over fifty years o' listenin' t' th' troubles, an' complaints, an' sobs o' thousan's who've taken a flyer at it I should say that about th' safest time t' wed is around seventy-five or eighty."

St. Valentine Party Event

Boys And Girls Of Lincoln-Garfield School Have Interesting Time

Forty five boys and girls of the Lincoln-Garfield school gave a Valentine play at the assembly Friday forenoon that not only was beautifully given but taught a pretty story of the origin of valentines.

The subject of the play was "St. Valentine's Picture Book." The plot was what should be put in this book. The young men were accustomed to present the young ladies with flowers but what should the children give children, On opening the book it was found that the pages were blank. What should they place there.

The boys were too lively to stay on the page. Neither did the well trained little ladies or John Brown's Ten Little Indians suit. Then why not place St. Velentine himself and the Queen of Hearts. So the Queen of Hearts was given a birthday party but the tarts prepared for the party were stolen by the knave and when he was caught and tried to hide the tarts they were crushed flat. So it was decided to send out the crushed tarts as valentines.

The play was directed by Miss Cynthia Blaine, teacher of dramatics. Next week an entertainment is planned combining the celebration of Lincoln and Washington birthdays.

Your Income Tax

Income Tax in a Nutshell:

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $3,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period ends March 15, 1927.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Forms 1040A and 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? One and one half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemptions and credits. Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surtax on net income in excess of $10,000.

No. 24.

Inquiries received by the Bureau of Internal Revenue indicate confusion in the minds of the writers concerning the difference between business expenditures and business expenses. Business expenditures are not always business expenses within the meaning of the income tax law. A merchant may build an addition to his store at a cost of $25,000. This is a capital expenditure for an addition to his assets. Capital expenditures are not deductible.

Distinction is made between expenditure for an asset and expenditure in connection with an asset. If the merchant should, during the year, spend $500 on repairs to his building, such as repainting the roof or repairing broken windows, he may deduct such amount as a business expense.

Medical, law or other professional books, machinery, tools, implements, or surgical instruments purchased by a taxpayer for use in his business, trade, or profession, and which are of a permanent character, are capital assets, and their cost is not deductible.

The purchase price of an automobile, even when used wholly for business or professional purposes is a capital expenditure and not deductible. The cost of gasoline, repairs, and upkeep of an automobile is deductible if used wholly in business. If used partly for business and partly for pleasure and convenience of the taxpayer and his family, such cost should be apportioned accordingly. The proportion of cost justly attributable to business purposes is deductible as a necessary expense.

COAL PRICE DROPS

CAPE CHARLES, Va., Feb. 12—Mrs. Edgar A. Nottingham, of Cape Charles, bought a half ton of coal for $7.50. When the stove refused to function, she drew the fire and found a lump of shiny metal melted in the grate. It turned out to be be 20-carat gold, worth exactly $7.20. Now Mrs. Nottingham figures the fuel cost her only 30 cents.

Little Georgie was invited out to dinner with his father and mother, and before starting the latter impressed upon the darling boy the necessity for his speaking in complimentary terms of the food.

After he had tasted the soup, he said to the hostess, "This is pretty good soup—what there is of it." A glare from his mother pulled him up. So he corrected himself by saying, "And there's plenty of it—such as it is."

Chicago School Head Is Jailed

Charge Principal Of Palmer School With Misconduct To Girl Students

DENIES CHARGES MADE BY PARENTS

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Averry V. Wolfrum, principal of the Palmer school awaited arraignment in Town Hall police court today on a charge that he had contributed to the delinquency of several girl pupils under his charge.

Wolfrum was arrested and lodged in jail following a mass meeting of parents who had assembled to "compare notes' on the stories told by their daughters, and to decide on what action to take against the principal.

The parents' report to police which caused the educator's arrest says in part:

"We learned this week that Wolfrum had been making indecent remarks, too obscene to mention, since last October. Under the pretence of disciplining the girls, Wolfrum called them to his office, closed the door and talked in a lascivious vein. Threats were made should the girls tell what they had heard to their parents.

"Despite the threats, however, some of our daughters have confided their experiences. We have compared notes and decided on police action. The parents will prosecute Wolfrum to the fullest extent.

Denies Charges.

From his cell in North Robey street police station Wolfrum vehemently denied all of the charges.

"Black and damnable lies—all of them" he said. "I have been expecting trouble from a group of parents for some time because I have been a strict disciplinarian, but I never dreamed they would vent their wrath in this damnable manner.

"The charges are absurd. I am the father of three fine children and I treat my pupils as I do my own children."

Youthful Bandit Slain In Robbery

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Feb. 12.—In a desperate battle with revolvers blazing at close quarters, a youthful bandit was slain and two others captured early today as they were surprissed in the act of robbing Branham's Pharmacy in Brookhaven, a surburb.

W. D. Boyce, 20, was shot and killed by O. D. Rowell, a county policeman who also captured W. D. Tavender 21, and William Sewell, 19. Tavender and Sewell were lodged in the county jail at Decatur.

Lita Returns Home, Chaplin Delighted

Chaplin Joyful As Dispatch From Coast Says Wife Returns Home

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Charlie Chaplin, the film comedian was avowedly delighted today over a dispatch from Los Angeles to the effect that his estranged wife, the former Lita Grey, has asked permission of the superior court to return to the Beverly Hills mansion of her husband because of her professed inability to pay rent on the house she now occupies.

"That's splendid, "Nathan Burkan, New York attorney of the comedian exclaimed to reporters after reading the dispatch to his famous client. Chaplin has been staying at the Burkan home on Fifth avenue since his arrival in New York some weeks ago.

"Let her return," Burkan went on. "Let her return to the beautiful home she left on her own free will and accord. She was not asked to leave and Mr. Chaplin was ignorant of her intentions until she left without warning."

Erskine Six

Sedan Now On Display

Studebaker's New 2⅓ Litre Car

AT THE New York automobile show, the Erskine Six—Studebaker's new-type car—was a sensation. New York echoed the enthusiasm of Paris and London—for this car is new . . . it is evolutionary . . . it is advanced!

Here is a car with a six-cylinder engine which develops 60 miles per hour effortlessly.

Here is acceleration that puts you ahead of traffic on thronged boulevards the instant the green light flashes—5 to 25 miles per hour in 8½ seconds!

Here is economy of upkeep never before approached in a car of 6-cylinder construction—25-30 miles to the gallon of gasoline—1000 miles to the gallon of oil!

And such ease of handling! TheErskine Six turns in a radius of 18 feet—slips through traffic like a motorcycle—parks in spaces you've always had to pass up before.

Changing your ideals of motor car performance

Thrilling Six-Cylinder Performance

It takes an 11% grade in high gear.

It possesses riding comfort of an entirely new order—the Erskine Six is cradled in a springbase equal to 82% of its entire wheelbase—the longest springbase for its size of any car built in America!

The Erskine Six is a newcomer as a car, but it is built and backed by a 75-year young concern and has been perfected by extreme road tests on the Studebaker proving ground. From the lustrous lacquer finish to the heart of the chassis, every part of the car is designed to give long, lasting service.

The Erskine Six is a revelation of custom car beauty. The fleet, buoyant lines of its body were designed by a great artist—Dietrich, whose custom bodies are indentified with the world's highest priced cars. His design for the Erskine Six won a competition in which the leading carrossiers of America participated.

The graceful lines of the Erskine Six Custom Sedan, the handsome crown fenders, the embossed panel on the hood, are characteristic of the finest custom body practice.

Richly upholstered in broadcloth with broadlace trim; hardware of bright silver finish; dome light, robe rail and silken curtains. Compartments for gloves or cigarettes at each end of the instrument board. Complete in every detail—new-type, one-piece windshield, automatic windshield cleaner; rear-vision mirror; hydrostatic gasoline gauge on the dash; coincidental lock to ignition and steering.

The Little Aristocrat

Be prepared for a surprise when first you see the Erskine Six. You will find it a distinct evolution in automobile building—an American fine car of the European type. You will likely want one for your own, personal use—regardless of how many cars you own—the moment you take the wheel and discover how deftly it handles, how smooth and effortless is the going.

Equipment—Erskine Six Custom Sedan: 4-wheel brakes; full size balloon tires; bumpers front and rear; two-beam headlights; oilfilter; rear traffic signal light; cowl ventilator; one-piece windshield; thief-proof coincidental lock to ignition and steering; automatic windshield cleaner; rear-vision mirror; hydro-static gasoline gauge on dash; instrument board compartments; dome light; robe rail; broadcloth upholstery with broadlace trim.

$525 IN PRIZES

It will pay you to come to see the Erskine Six. Every person visiting our salesroom will be given a ticket that is worth money to them. A cash prize of $25 and five prizes of $100 each to apply on any car we have will be given free. Ask for particulars.

Motorists Buy Nearly Four Million Gallons Of Gas Here In 6 Months

(From News Bureau) (State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 12.—Motorists in Lawrence county during the last six months of 1926 paid for 3,733,668 gallons of gasoline, figures on the amount of tax collected there in that period show. State Treasurer S. S. Lewis today announced that $18,668.34 was the county's share of the two cent tax collected for the final half of last year. Under the present law the county receives a half cent of the two cent tax.

Gas collections last year amounted to $11,767,575, Mr. Lewis said, or an increase of $1,266,028 over 1925. With the corresponding ratio of increase prevailing during this and next year Mr. Lewis estimates that about $28,000,000 will be received under this tax. At last $21,000,000 would be available for highway purposes and possibly $6,000,000 for maintenance and construction after sinking fund charges on the bonds are deducted.

The number of passenger vehicles registered in Lawrence county with the highway department for the first six months of last year was 16,294. The number for the county was not materially increased before the close of the year although the exact figures are not available. Few cars are unregistered after July 1 of each year.

Dry Democrats To Bolt Party If Wet Is Named

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Dry Democrats will bolt the party of Governor "Al" Smith or any other wet is nominated for the presidency, Rep. Wm. J. Upshaw (D) of Georgia, fiery reform leader of congress, declared in a farewell address in the house today.

Upshaw, who was defeated for re-election, assailed in his validictory all "damp" Democrats, called upon President Coolidge to show more faith in prohibition and declared that wet leaders ought to be banished to Russia.

He asserted that Lincoln would enforce the dry law to the letter if he were president today.

City Nurse Kept Busy In January

Mrs. Elizabeth Davies, city nurse, made 135 calls during January, according to a health department report to be presented members of council next week. Twenty-seven homes under quarantine were visited, 101 observation visits were recorded and the balance consisted of business calls, surgical dressings, bedside care and fever census taking.

Near Fist Fight On Senate Floor

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—A near fist fight on the floor of the senate between Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D.) of Montana, and Senator Carter Glass (D) of Virginia, featured the senate's action this afternoon in voting to consider the Pepper-McFadden Banking Bill.

Glass tried to attack Wheeler when the latter charged he was being "steam-rollered" by advocates of the measure. The fiery little Virginian rushed across the chamber, raised his hand to strike Wheeler, evidently reconsidered it and invited the tall montanan into a cloakroom. As Wheeler started after the Virginian, other senators intervened and prevented a physical encounter.

Search For Third Suspect In Death Of Mine Officials

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 12.—search for a third member of a gang of bootleggers believed to have fatally wounded Lewis Knapp of Kane, Pa., and Paul Fox, Vestaburg coal and iron police, today centered around Greensburg, Pa., it was believed when it was learned that W. C. Dinsmore, county detective, had changed the scene of his investigations to the latter city.

Roy and Robert Wenrich of West Brownsville, held as suspects in the shooting, and owners of the car found in a West Brownsville garage in which detectives said they found a revolver similar to that with which Knapp and Fox were slain, were in solitary confinement here, together with three other men, questioned in connection with the case.

Carnegie Tech Professor Discovers New Process For Denaturing Alcohol

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., 12.— Prof. Joseph H. James, of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, has announced the discovery of a new denaturant for alcohol that is non-poisonous, yet so distasteful as to make the alcohol in which it is contained undrinkable. The denaturant is known as "aldehol." It has a violently repulsive odor.

"Aldehol" has been adopted by the government and beginning April 1, it will be used to denature industrial alcohol, he said.

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon sought a new denaturant for industrial alcohol in face of a multitude of protests against the government practice of denaturing alcohol with poison "aldehol" is the result of research in this direction.

Prof. James explained that the chief virture of the new denaturant is that thus far it has resisted all denaturing efforts employed by bootleggers to reclaim alcohol for illicit sales.

With "aldehol" as the denaturant it would be impossible for bootleggers to sell their buyers liquor made from industrial alcohol without the consumer knowing the source of the alcohol, because of the violent odor which cannot be removed, Prof. James said.

Formula No. 5, the most common formula in use at present for denaturing alcohol is to be changed on April 1 to include "four parts by volume of approved methanol (wood alcohol) and .75 parts by volume of the compound or one similar thereto known as Aldehol grade A," Prof. James said.

The new formula increases the wood alcohol content from two parts to four and aldehol is substituted for the part of the present formula which requires pyridin basis.

Local prohibition officials say that "aldehol" will at least solve the problem of finding a suitable denaturant. If bootleg chemists can find a method of neutralizing odor and eliminating the sickening effect of "aldehol," however, they will have overcome the new obstacle to their trade and a new formula must be sought, government chemists said.

The new process does not remove the poison, it increases it to double the present content, but the government claims the odor and taste of "Aldehol" will warn consumers against bootleg liquor.

Lincoln's Birthday Has Significance To B. & O. Railroad

Today, February 12, marks a double anniversary for it not only is the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, but just one hundred years ago today, 1827, the first formal meeting was held in the city of Baltimore to arganize the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company.

Although the 18 year old boy in Indiana who on that date marked his birthday anniversary, was unknown to the men who gathered at the residence of George Brown that same evening, and likewise they unknown to him, he and the railroad for which they were meeting to devise ways and means of starting it were to play very important parts in each other's destiny.

In linking up the history of Abraham Lincoln and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad they first come together in 1856 when Lincoln then an attorney at Springfield, Ill., became counsel for the Ohio and Mississippi railroad which railroad is now an important part of the Baltimore and Ohio lines from Cincinnati to St. Louis.

Mr. Lincoln came into direct contact with the Baltimore and Ohio on Washington's Birthday, 1861 when he used the line from Baltimore to Washington in going to his inauguration. This was the beginning of a very close relationship in the net four years, for the Civil War forced Mr. Lincoln to commandeer the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and John W. Garrett, president of the company at that time came into frequent association with him. The remains of the martyred Lincoln left Washington over the Baltimore and Ohio for burial at Springfield, Ill.

DR. HOLCOMB TO START SERIES ON "AGE OF YOUTH"

Will Discuss Answers To Series Of Questions About Modern Youth

A series of sermons will be delivered by Dr. Holcomb on the general theme the "Age Of Youth". The first one will begin Sunday night. The subject will be "They Don't Know What They'er Missing." About 500 questionnaires have been sent to the citizens of New Castle, these questionnaires containing 19 questions bearing on the subject of youth. There problems and how to solve them. A questionnaire was sent to each member of the Senior Class of the Public High School.

The sermons each Sunday evening will be based on the answers received, and their bearing on the Bible teaching regarding training of the youth. Several hundred answers have already come in, each mail is bringing more which proves that the citizens are interested in the problems of the young and are glad to assist in helping them as much as possible.

Richard Johns who is the director of music at the First Christian Church has arranged for special music by The Ne-Ca-Hi Sextette. This group is composed of the following well known members of the High School Band: Domenic DeLillo, Karleton Brown, Philip Winter, Ransford Riddle, David Young, Harry Stiritz, and Jack Huston.

Following are the 19 questions to be considered in this series of evening programs. Any citizens who desire to send in a answer it will be appreciated and dealth with in all confidence. The service begins promptly at 7:30. It is for everyone who desires to come.

Is the modern dance degrading to the youth, should it be held in church and school?

Are the movies a danger to the best interests of modern society?

Are the games of chance or card games having any noticable influence on the youth of today?

Is the church, or home, or school responsible for the religious condition among the youth of today?

Is there a noticable lack of religious training in the home?

Do you think modern church and school meet the needs of the modern youth?

methods as other institutions?

Do you think the youth of today morally worse than those of other days?

Do you think girls should smoke cigaretts as well as boys?

Has the style of dress among the women and girls lowered the moral standards?

Is there sufficient discipline in the home today?

Has the automobile contributed to the delinquency of youth?

Is the present condition of prohibition the cause for crime among the youth?

Has the teaching of Sex Hygiene been beneficial or detrimental to the moral courage of youth?

Are necking and petting parties contributing to early marriages and early divorces?

Is there a general moral looseness among the young people of today?

What do you think is the greatest problem among the youth of today?

What would be your solution of this problem?

Do you know personally of an outstanding incident that is typical of the youthful deficiency of today? What is it?

Let Us Celebrate Birthdays Of Great Men; Not Anniversaries Of Death

By JAMES J. DAVIS
Secretary of Labor
(Written for International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—It can be said of two great Americans that their words have almost the force of the Constitution. These are George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. It might be said that as the Fathers gave us a written political constitution, these two great men left us a moral constitution, written both in their words and in their lives. More and more in the speeches of Lincoln especially, are being taken as moral guides as binding on all good Americans as the terms of the Constitution itself. Just as clearly as the Declaration of Independance set forth the spirit in which this country was founded, so do the Gettysburgh Address and the Second Inaugural set forth the spirit in which the country should ever go forward. In every schoolroom of the country these should be taught, along with the Declaration and the Constitution itself. Every boy and girl should be made to feel that every day is a Gettysburg day, and that the great Address is spoken to us as it was spoken to an audience on the field of Gettysburg 64 years ago. Every day we should dedicate ourselves, as Lincoln urged, to the great task of carrying on the country for which the dead have given the last full meed of devotion. Every day we should resolve anew that this democracy, of the people, for the people, by the people, shall not perish from this earth.

It has always struck me as significant that we always celebrate the anniversary of a great man's birth, but never the anniversary of his death. It is as if we realize that a great man never dies, except in the sense that his beloved face disappears from sight. In all other respects he lives on. Today Abraham Lincoln is even more a living presence than he was in the days of his fleshly career, when he was lampooned and derided around the world. We really know him better than he was known in the flesh. Time has taken nothing away from Abraham Lincoln but it has taken everything away from his critics. To Lincoln's wisdom and spirit. Time has only added beauty and stature. It is to the everlasting glory of America that the gentlest and the wisest man since Christ, was born and lived among us.

In many ways Lincoln comes closer to us than Washington himself. In many ways he was even greater, bigger man. He was more the average American. He was like more Americans than Washington was. And because they resemble Lincoln more, we understand him better. Perhaps it is because Lincoln was a talkative man, where Washington was silent. It is by his deeds that Washington guides. Lincoln does it with his burning words. In some of his utterances Lincoln is so great that we cannot keep him wholly to ourselves. In the Gettysburg Address, in the second Inaugural, in some others of his utterances. he rises above mere local and political conditions, into an atmosphere of sublime morality where all nations may claim him. The world would be a better place if all peoples resolved, over the dead on their battlefields, to live with charity for all, with malice toward none.

Let us see to it that in America, at least, the land of Lincoln's birth, life and work, we never depart from his counsel. Let us freshly resolve, each year, on the day of his birth, to dedicate ourselves anew to the service of government of the people, by the people, for the people, so that it shall not perish from the earth.

Legion Booster Is Issued Today

First Copies Of Legion Monthly Are Being Distributed Here

Ex-service men of New Castle and vicinity today are receiving their first copy of the American Legion Booster, the new publication put out by the Perry S. Gaston Post of the American Legion. Some 1,500 copies are being mailed in this first issue today.

The Legion paper is a four-page publication, very neatly arranged and well printed. Its purpose is stated in the foreword to be "for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the American Legion and for the publication of items of interest concerning ex-service men and women in general. It is being published on a self-supporting basis and not for personal profit to any individual.

The editorial staff follows: Charles E. Allen, editor; Bart Richards and Rev. S. L. Maxwell, associate editors; Clarence A. Patterson, business manager; A. I. Donnan, assistant business manager; L. B. MacAnaney, advertising manager; Pat J. Dempsey, circulation manager.

The American Legion Booster will be published monthly. The present issue contains articles about the annual Washington Birthday banquet, the membership campaign, as well as the editor's column, the district commander's column and the auxiliary column.

New Castle's Opportunity

(Contributed)

The very distinctive and far-reaching movements of this present Century which have brought about the large opportunities for higher education are instructive lectures, radio, fine libraries, magnificent schools and colleges and efficient and comfortable methods of travel. A broad and liberal all around education emancipates the mind and makes us citizens of the whole world. As Falstaff says "the world is mine oyster."

The vices and temptations of luxurious urban life are hardly more destructive to character than is the slow determination of barren monotonous suburban existence. The trouble is often the same, the absence of noble interests. In the luminous centers the restless idleness seeks amusements and in the country deadly dullness succeeds the daily round of work.

So what a wonderful thing it is to invigorate life through learning. If by cultivating a taste for the finer things of life, Music, Art, Literature, Travel, how much more delightful life would be. The years of learning and acquirement of worth while things are the years of romance. An educational period is not that one obtains something by which to earn one's bread but that every mouthful may be sweeter to one's taste. We should never forget the everlasting difference between making a living and making a life. There is a very invigorating interest to which a lecture may introduce to the receptive mind, and that is the study of nature. A closer intimacy with the strange and beautiful world in which we reside. "Nature never did betray the heart that loved her."

We in New Castle should be justly proud that our city is included in the itinerary of the eminent scientist, explorer and sportsman, Prince William of Sweden who comes on behalf of the Quota Club to deliver his famed lecture on "Hunting Big Game in Pygmy Land" at the Scottish Rite Auditorium, on Saturday evening, February twelfth.

This event will afford us the opportunity of learning of the condition which prevail in Central Africa, and of the thrilling incidents of his adventurous hunting trip amid such dangerous environment. The scenes and happenings of this journey are portrayed and augmented by means of 36,000 feet of moving pictures. Thus a splendid chance is given to view at first hand a world in which we hitherto have had no part. We all no doubt have read of nerve racking escapades as they existed in the fertile imagination of the author, but to see foot after foot of exciting adventures and hair breadth escapes, which really occurred reeled off before our very eyes, is the chance of a life time. We are really only children of a larger growth and wild animals always exercise a fascination for us, at Zoological gardens and circuses but here there are shown animals and creatures the like of which no museum or park can boast. If it were not for these pictures, the story of his trip from Nairobi in the Kenia country through Uganda and Ruanda to Lake Kiva would be difficult to believe. How fortunate the Riks Museum was to have this illustrious nobleman interest himself to secure for the education and enlightenment of the thousands of visitors the innumerable mammals, 1700 bird specimens, and ten thousand insects. How much richer is science. What inestimable benefit for future study and classification. There may be those who will not be able to visit this museum but there will be no excuse for them not to witness these pictures showing the collecting and sorting of these specimens. Now what a chance we have to improve our prestige as an advanced center and our standing among the forward cities of the United States. When this program that is now in transition has been put into complete execution the wealth that lies in the difference; that is, that which now prevails in our community and that which is in prospect will dawn upon the vision of every resident. Intense interest is being now manifested in his local engagement, and it will behoove the lovers of nature, science and sport to secure their reservations early so that choice seats may be had before it is too late.

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The most severe storm wave of February will be expected to cross continent during week centering on 15; this storm wave will be followed closely by a wave of somewhat less intensity centering on 20; storm force during storm wave centering on 15 is expected to be of greater intensity than during period centering on 20, and to move farther southward in its course, but temperature extremes are expected to be greater during storm period centering on 20. Cold wave that is expected with and following storm centering on 20 will be expected to cause the greatest extremes of the month. Greatest extremes of temperatures, relative to local normals, will be expected in north central and northeastern sections. Most precipitation of last half of February will occur with and following storm wave centering on 20. During the average February, daily normal temperatures do not become much warmer in North America; normal temperatures for last day of month are about five degrees warmer in south and eight degrees warmer in north than for first day of month. February extreme range of temepratures, however, average being the greatest of any month of the year. I expect last half of February, 1927, to average much colder than first half, the entire month to average a little below normal generally, and that extremes of temperatures for the month will be greater than usual.

Natural ice men would do well to make the best possible use of the period February 17 to 28, as this period will probably furnish the last good ice weather of the season. I do not wish to cause the impression that Spring will arrive at this time, however.

Moon Weather

So long as no penalty is imposed upon those who consider moon positions and movements as factors to be reckoned with when forecasting weather changes, we may safely continue to use them in both forecasting and research in defiance of the edict from the official bureau to the effect that such influence cannot be. The moon not only influences our local weather, it is the most complicated and baffling influence until its method of influence is discovered; its influence has caused more wool gathering among orthodox investigators than all other influences combined; its influence has caused most investigators of planetary influence to become hopelessly lost. There are times when the relative positions of planets will invert, turn upside down, the results that would be expected from the influence of our inconstant moon; those inversions have ruined the good intentions of many able investigators. To determine the moon's influence upon the atmospheric changes of a given locality, not only the phase must be considered, but the exact position and movement of the moon relative to that locality. Moon phases, such as New Moon and Full Moon, influence our atmospheric changes in as much as they are relative positions of sun, moon and earth, but to expect such phases to cause certain results in a certain locality would be as unreasonable as to expect the groundhog's shadow to cause six weeks more winter.

New Library Being Provided

Rapid Progress Taking Place On New Westminster Library

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 12.—Work of preparing Westminster College's new library for use by students and faculty is rapidly progressing under the direction of Miss Mildred Allman, librarian and her staff of student assistants.

The science library, located in the Science Hall has been appropriated for the new library. The space is limited but there is shelf space for many hundreds of volumes. The museum on the third floor of the same building is to be converted into a reading room so that it is expected that within the next few weeks, library facilities will be almost the equal of those before the fire.

According to officers of the Rotary Club of New Wilmington, contributions to the library fund continue to be received. At the meeting of the club last Monday evening, reports were submitted showing that the drive for $1,800 which had been launched by the club, had gone over the top.

Beaver Townships

Albert Stauffer and family of Youngstown, O., spent a few days this week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stauffer.

Mr. and Mrs. Del. Delamo and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Penick of Beaver Falls, Pa., spent Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Ross.

Martha Elizabeth Young is confined to her home on account of illness.

James Gilmore, secretary of the local school board made an interesting find recently while searching for some school records of past years. His find was in the form of an old account book kept by the school board in the years of 1856, 1857, and 1858. An item or two of interest found in the book were entries of the State appropriation which in those days amounted to $89.96 a year for the district which at that time included the present borough of Enon Valley as well as the present township. Teachers in those so-called good old days received a salary amounting to from $20.00 to $23.00 a month. The records show that one year the teachers of the district received their first pay when due and taught the remainder of the term before receiving the balance of their earnings.

Mrs. William Nesbit is reported as being somewhat better although not entirely out of danger yet.

Margaret, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hutchison who is in the Beaver Falls hospital, having undergone an operation for appendicitis is reported to be slowly recovering.

Hugh Marshall who has been confined to his home with scarlet fever is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin were New Castle visitors this week.

The program is as follows: 11, sermon by Dr. Milligan M. Pearce, president of Geneva College; 2:30, conference for young men on "Problems Young Men Have to Meet and How to Meet Them", led by Samuel Boyle; 2:30, conference for young women on "Problems Young Women Have to Meet and How to Meet Them", led by Miss Mary Curry; 6:45, joint conference for both groups; subject, "How to Make Tomorrow Better Than Today", Miss Myrle Riley, leader.

Among the local young people participating in these conferences are Miss Elizabeth McCaskey, Glen Lemon, Kenneth Gaston, John Riley, Miss Edith Pattison and Miss Marietta Daugherty. A number of visiting students will also speak on different phases of this subject.

7:45, life service conference. 1. Definition of life service, Samuel Boyle of Topeka Kas. 2. Life service in the church, Miss Maud Slater, Beaver Falls. 3. Life service in the community, George McElhinney, Denver, Colo. 4. Miss Mary Curry, Winchester, Kans.

In addition to those already named there will be present and participating in the afternoon program Miss Mary McClure of Morning Sun, Ia.; Miss Elanor Linsey, Mt. Clair, N. J.; Miss Mildred McKinney, Wilkinsburg; Miss Nettie McClure, Morningsun, Ia.; Miss Gretta Johnston of Connellsville, and Miss McDowel, head of the newly established health department of the college.

Miss Curry is a gifted young woman. She has been the leader of the girls' gospel team in her home community at Winchester, Kans. A noted especially interesting feature of the program will be the crayon work of Sam Boyle. Mr. Boyle has won quite a reputation as a crayon artist. He has used his talent extensively in religious work.

One reason why "heart failure" is on the increase is because it accompanies so many other causes of death.

SONS OF VETERANS AUXILIARY ENJOYS SOCIAL SESSION

Auxiliary to Oscar L. Jackson Camp No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans, last night held a social session in honor of the new president, Mrs. Alda Varley and new members of the organization. The Sons of Union Veterans were special guests of the evening.

The affair was very largely attended and at the close of the regular session of the auxiliary, the social session was held. Light refreshments were served and thoroughly enjoyed by those in attendance.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

UNDER THE WEEPING WILLOW

If ever there is a time and place for fishing it is when the sun is shining on a winding trout stream. But Peter had found out one more thing about the outdoor folk—that you couldn't always judge from appearances.

Now there was Trout. Cold-blooded fish, Peter had always believed him, and yet for all his fins and scales the fellow thought as much of his home as anybody, and Peter wasn't going to take any chances on bringing more disaster upon him. Poor little Trout had had trouble enough for one day!

So Peter flung down his rod and line, and he and Pat and the little girl sat down under a weeping willow. It was fresh and cool and fragrant beneath the bending bough, and Peter and Pat and the little girl had no need forwords—they were happy just to be together. And though it was very peaceful beneath the weeping willow, close in by the blue-flag clump it was anything but quiet.

"'Zzzzzz!" A sharp, shrill, insistent trumpet call cut the stillness.

"That's Locust!" cried the little girl. "My, what a noise he makes! I'd think there was something wrong with him, only he goes on just so every hot afternoon."

"Sssh!" Peter held up a warning finger. "He says, 'there's but six weeks more to frost and 'tis high time the Meadow people held their summer party!'" (Peter, you see, understood the language of all living creatures, but right now it proved almost more than he could do to translate for the little people—so many of them began talking, and all at once.)

IT WAS FRESH AND COOL AND FRAGRANT UNDER THE WEEPING WILLOW

"What, another party? Katy gave one!" a hoarse voice interrupted Locust.

"Katy didn't!" a third voice shrilly contradicted.

"But she did!" The second was insistent.

"Well, what if she did? It rained and nobody came!" Locust's voice, triumphant, drowned all the rest.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

MENU HINT

A nourishing soup for the noon luncheon is always a good foundation. The toasted bread strips may take the place of croutons and will be good for the children, especially if whole wheat bread is used. The following menu was planned for a mother and two children.

Nut Cream Tomato Soup
Croutons
Fruit Gelatine Cookies
Milk

TODAY'S RECIPES

Nut Cream Tomato Soup — One can tomato soup, two tablespoons peanut butter, as much water as tomato soup, one tablespoon of cream or canned milk for each serving.

Cream the peanut butter with hot water, add soup and water. Season with salt to taste. Let come to a boil. Place milk in serving dish and pour soup over this slowly. This richens the soup, and by combining in this way the milk will not curdle.

Fig Cookies—One cup butter, two cups sugar, two eggs, separated, one cup milk, one teaspoon orange extract, one teaspoon rose extract, three and one-half level teaspoons baking powder, five and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon salt. Filling: One pound figs, two teaspoons grated orange rind, one orange, one cup grape juice, one cup honey, one cup water. For Cookies—Beat butter and sugar to a cream, add yolk of eggs and beat well, add milk, extracts, white of eggs stiffly beaten, and flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Knead lightly on a floured board and roll out very thin. Cut into shapes and spread half with the fig filling, place the other half on top and bake in a moderately hot oven for 15 to 20 minutes. For Filling: Wash figs and cut them into dice, put them into a saucepan, add orange and grape juice, honey and water; cover and simmer, stirring often until reduced to jam. Turn out to cool. This makes 26 cookies.

HE WANTED HELP

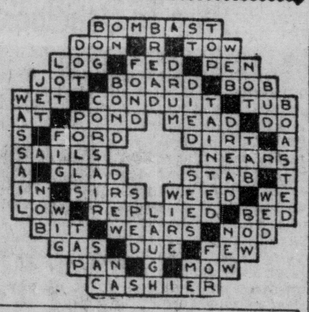

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 12.—Firemen answering an alarm in this city couldn't find the fire, but discovered a man leaning against the alarm box post wiping blood from his face.

"Where's the fire?" they asked.

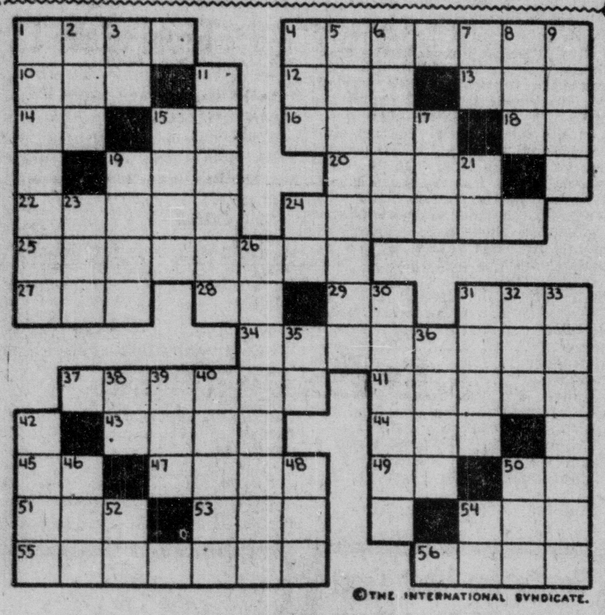

"Search me," the man replied, "but I turned in the alarm." He explained that he had been set upon by four men who attacked him and he pulled the fire alarm to frighten them away.

NEW CASTLE-MARS HIGH FLOOR GAME CALLED OFF

Referee Fails To Reach City

After Wait Of Almost An Hour, Game Scheduled Last Night Is Called Off

WILL LIKELY BE SCHEDULED AGAIN

By "BUGS" WALTHER

The New Castle-Mars floor game scheduled in Section IV of the W. P. I. A. L. was postponed indefinitely last night. When it was apparent that Referee "Ted" Brickley of Pittsburgh would not show up the game was declared off. The Mars team refused to take the floor with any other official other than one assigned here by the league committee.

Close to one thousand fans and patrons of the local team waited for the game to start, but it didn't start, and it is a two to one bet with plenty of "takers" that it never will start. The entire yarn wrapped up in a nutshell is this, Coach "Ham" Hudson refused to "play ball" with any other official. Now get this straight the Mars coach was right in the sense of the word, and he was within letter of the league by refusing to put his team on the floor without the properly assigned official.

Referee At Fault

Mr. Brickley was assigned to the game, but for some reason unaccounted for, he failed to appear, and in fact the writer is led to believe that he hasn't put in his appearance yet. Now Mr. Brickley committed one grave error, he should have sent a substitute, but he didn't.

After a patient wait of perhaps one hour, it was decided by Faculty Manager Gardner, Coach Bridenbaugh, and Coach Hudson that the game should not be played.

New Castle officials, when it was apparent that Brickley was not going to arrive, secured Walter E. Kirker physical director of the Y. M. C. A. to handle the game, but the Mars coach would not agree to play.

This is the second time this year that New Castle fans and officials have had to wait on a referee and the matter is becoming obnoxious. The fans were given their tickets back and they can be used again. So everyone was satisfied to the fullest extent. It was a matter entirely without fault of the New Castle High School team and officials, and everything within reason was done to secure the game but the matter worked out adversely.

Liberty Five Top Union High Alumni In Weird Battle

Liberty Passers Topple Alumni Team By Score Of 62 To 14

—Dart In Lineup

The fast stepping Liberty Five swamped the Union High Alumni team under an avalanche of baskets, and walked off with a victory of 62 to 14, in a game played Wednesday night on the Lincoln-Garfield gym floor.

It was the twelfth victory for the Liberty team this year. They have been defeated in but one game, and that was to the Trojans. The Liberty passers scored a total of thirty field goals against the Union quintet. Reiber and Neyman the Liberty forwards litterly lost tract of Charles Henry Dart the star Union guard, and Leslie his team-mate. Neyman and Jenkins led the onslaught with seven and eight baskets respectively.

Tino, Parker and Reiber performed in sensational manner for the Liberty team. For the Union team the work of Lewis with four baskets was the feature, while the guarding of Dart was easily one of the shining moments in the rather listless game, he also caged a field goal. Dart is a brother of "Miz" Dart well known local athlete and fireman.

The lineup and summary:

Liberty Five 62		Union Alumni 14
Reiber	F	Lewis
Neyman	F	Crispo
Parker	C	Rech
Jenkins	G	Dart
Rogovin	G	Leslie

Subs.—Tino, McGonigle, Horchler.

Field goals—Reiber 5, Jenkins 8, Neyman 7, Parker 6, Tino, 2, McGonigle, Rogovin, Lewis 4, Dart, Reach.

Fouls—Liberty Five 2 out of 7. Alumni 2 out of 11.

Referee—Cuba.

Grove City Quint At Morgantown For Floor Game Tonight

GROVE CITY, Pa., Feb. 12. — Following their game with Pitt last night, Coach Bob Thorn's Grove City College passers continued their overland journey to Morgantown, West Virginia, where the Crimson quint will be entertained tonight by West Virginia University. The game will be staged in the "Old Ark" and a bitter tussle is sure to result.

The Mountaineers with victories over the leading college fives of the Tri-State district is a heavy favorite to cop from the Grovers in their annual setto. West Virginia holds a victory over Pitt and their play in recent games has stamped them as one of the most formidable foes on the Crimson schedule.

Grove City invades Morgantown minus the services of two regulars, Homer Rose and Bobby Angelo being lost to the team by scholastic difficulties. As the result Thorn will send a patched-up lineup against the Mountaineers. Tonight's game will mark the completion of a week's road games, the Grovers having met both Geneva and Pitt on foreign hardwoods this week.

Musketeers Trim Wilmington Aces

The Musketeers of the Boy's League of the Y. M. C. A. stepped out of their class on Thursday night to down the New Wilmington Aces at New Wilmington by a score of 48 to 44. The game was fast and closely contested throughout.

The Wilmington Aces took the lead in the first few minutes of play and held a lead of 23 to 16 at the end of the first half. The third and fourth quarters found the Musketeers opening up with a fast attack that netted them thirty-two points, while the Aces were held to twenty-one points.

Kroen with six baskets and Hannon with five were the leading scorers for the Musketeers, while Eagleson with six and Hutchinson with five led the Aces from the floor.

The lineup and summary:

Musketeers 48	New Wilmington 44
Hannon	F	Eagleson
Louden	F	Newton
W. Kroen	C	Worrall
Woods	G	Hutchinson
Hill	G	J. Eagleson

Field goals—Hannon 5, Louden 2, W. Kroen 6, Woods 4, Hill 3, H. Eagleson 6, Newton 2, Worrall 3, Hutchinson 5, J. Eagleson 3.

Fouls—Musketeers 8 out of 8; New Wilmington 6 out of 11.

Referee—Eckles.

HIGH SCORES IN VARIOUS SPORTS — BY FEG MURRAY

Copyright, 1927, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

Although high-scoring games are often uninteresting to watch, a few facts about some of the record scores in various sports and those who have scored the most points may prove interesting.

Baseball: Ty Cobb, in his twenty-two years in the American league, scored 2,086 runs, or 346 more than his nearest competitor, Hans Wagner, scored in twenty-one seasons in the National league. Bill Hamilton scored 196 runs in one season with the Phillies in 1894, while Babe Ruth tallied 177 times for the Yanks in 1921. A gent named Guy Hecker, of the old Louisville A. A., crossed the plate safely seven times in one game in 1886, while Tom Burns, of the Cubs, scored three runs in one inning in 1883.

A game between the Cubs and Phillies in 1922 produced the most runs by two opposing clubs, just one shy of fifty, while in 1897 the Cubs beat Louisville 36 to 7, making 18 runs in one inning, another record.

Football: Mayes McLain, 200-pound Cherokee full-back of the Haskell Indians, scored 259 points in ten of the thirteen games that his team competed in last season. He ran up a total of 114 digits in three games, and his season's record is nearly two and a half times that of his nearest rival for scoring honors. In 1925, McLain made 111 points.

The following are two games in which a very high score was made by one team. They are not however, claimed as records. Georgia Tech beat Cumberland 253 to 0 in 1916, and a few years later Kings college, Va., beat Lenoir 206 to 0.

Basketball (not necessarily world's records): Passiac High school beat Ocean City H. S., 122-6 in 1923. The Bridgeport (Conn). H. S. girls' team defeated South Manchester H. S. 106 to 2, and the Elm Creek (Neb.) H. S. girls' team beat Riverdale 103 to 0 (Jan. 21, 1926). Ruth Royston, the Missouri girl who scored forty-one field goals and two free throws for a total of eighty-four points in one game, appears to be the high school girl basketball champ of the world at this writing. Back in 1908, the Hoboken (N. J.) Academy girls' team beat Kearny High school 91 to 0, Capt. Elsa Tannert scoring 62 points.

Golf: The woman who holed out in 166 shots, after playing her ball down-stream in a rowboat and back a mile and a quarter through the woods, in a Shawnee club tournament, is evidently the high-score record-holder of tournament golf, but there are a few other items of interest. A hole was halved in ten in the final of the 1906 British amateur championship, D. Murdoch made a hole in fourteen in the 1925 British Open, and Willie Chisholm took eighteen strokes on one hole in the 1919 United States open!

Tennis: Vandeventer (New Jersey) beat Stratford (Cal.) 22 to 20 in one set in a 1925 tournament.

Soccer: New Bedford's 14 to 0 win over Philadelphia last month was an American Soccer league record.

Billiards (18.2 balk line): Last November, in Paris, Roger Conti ran 732 in a match with Louis Cure at the Olympia club. Ed Horemans had previously run 701.

Ice Hockey (not necessarily a record): In 1917, the Wanderers beat Ottawa 11 to 10, after being behind 8 to 1 in the first period. Lester Patrick, now manager of the New York Rangers, scored 8 goals for the winners. (The goalie's pads were smaller in those days.)

Feg Murray says—The revival of track athletics in Germany has not only caused a further drop in the currency, with so many marks falling, but it has also made us suspicious of the Watches on the Rhine.

Westminster Swimmers Defeat Thiel 37 To 20 In First Meet Of Year

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 12.—Westminster's varsity swimming team gained a 37 to 20 victory over Thiel College in the college pool on Friday night. It was the first swimming meet ever attempted at the United Presbyterian school, and there was plenty of interest in the event, but it was purely for Men Only.

The meet was staged under the personal direction of Jack Hulmes, Westminster swimming instructor. Hulmes has been at the school for the past year and has brought the team along to a point where they can step out with the best of them. Westminster has some first class material for the "tank team" as shown by their brilliant victory of last night.

Out of the seven events on the program last night the Westminster swimmers won six first places, and lost but one. Aiken of Thiel captured first place in the opening event the 40 yard free style swim, but after that the honors fell to the local collegians.

Relay Team Features

One of the outstanding features on the card was the 160 yard relay race that was won by Westminster in the very good time of 1 minute and 29½ seconds, Brown, Reed, Coleman, and Bowen constituted the Westminster team, and they finished ahead of the Thiel team.

Brown and Bowen were the big stars for the Westminsterites, with the former taking two firsts, and the latter a pair of first, while Botsford gained first place in the 40 yard back stroke.

As stated elsewhere in this article the meet was for men only. The fair sex were barred for the very simple reason that the boys staged the meet "sans habit," that is to say without clothes, almost rivaling the Follies Revue.

It is altogether likely that Westminster will engage in other meets in the very near future. If the showing last night can be taken as a criterion the Blue and White, or mostly white we should say, team, will win many more meets of this nature.

There is considerable interest being shown in swimming at Westminster this year and with a man the caliber of Jack Hulmes to direct them the United Presbyterian swimmers will rapidly forge to the front.

The summary of the meet:

40-yard Free Style

Aiken, Thiel, first; Reed, Westminster, second. Time, 21 seconds.

40-yard Back Stroke

Botsford, Westminster, first; Zundal, Thiel, second. Time, 28 seconds.

100-yards Free Style

Bowen, Westminster, first; Aiken, Thiel, second. Time 1.4 3-5 seconds.

Fancy Diving

Brown, Westminster, first; Bowen, Westminster, second.

80-yard Breast Stroke

Bowen, Westminster, first; Weiman, Thiel, second. Time 1.12 6-10 seconds.

220-yard Free Style

Brown, Westminster, first; Shultz, Thiel, second. Time 2.59½ seconds.

160-yard Relay

Westminster, first; (Reed, Coleman, Brown, Bowen). Thiel second. Time 1.29½ seconds.

Regals Lose To Bearcats 24-15

The Regals were defeated by the Bearcats by a score of 24 to 15, in a game played on the Y. M. C. A. court.

The Bearcats led throughout the game, and held an advantage of 10 to 7 at the end of the first half. Brennen and Marquis led the attack for the winners, with Solomon and A. Coen the best for the Regals.

The lineup and summary:—

Regals 15.		Bearcats 24.
Solomon	f	R. Marquis
Newmark	f	A. Woods
Ginsberg	c	Brenner
Winnick	g	Williams
M. Levine	g	Switzer

Subs;—A. Coen, Kline, H. Coen, Usselton.

Field Goals;— Solomn 3, A. Cohen, Winnick, M. Levine, Marquis 4, Usselton 2, Brenner 2, Williams, Switzer.

Fouls;—Regals 2 out of 6. Bearcats 4 out of 9.

Referee;—Hill.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

HORSE Gillium of New Castle, center, Grove City, had lots to do with Grove City's defeat of Pitt, 37-31, last night at Pittsburgh. Toward the last part of the game Gillium and Rankin, a guard, ran the Panthers ragged. Johnny Kraft also got into the game and caged a couple of markers.

SAM Breadon of St. Louis Cardinals, today admitted a deal is under way whereby Jess Haines may go to Cincinnati for Luque and Pipp. Breadon is anxious to rid the team of Haines, who is a holdout. He wants an extra $5,000 this year. Breadon, however, has no intention of letting Bottomley get away from the champions.

PHIL Rosenberg, Bushy Graham, their managers and Jess McMahon have been suspended by the New York boxing commission. The first four were shelved for a year and McMahon indefinitely. It is said the fighters and managers entered into a secret contract by which Rosenberg received more money than the face of the contracts called for.

TY COBB'S salary with the Athletics for this year will be $60,000, and not $75,000, as reported. Cobb got $10,000 of the sum for a bonus. This is $8,000 more than Babe Ruth received last year. Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, is not worrying over the Ruth matter, it being said in New York that Huggins expects Ruth to be on the training field when the time arrives.

BOBBY Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., pro., added his third winter golf crown of the season at Hot Springs by winning the south-central open tournament with a score of 296 for 72 holes. Playing a stellar brand, he led the field by four strokes.

Falcons Win By One Point

Thursday evening the Polish Falcons and the Express team of Youngstown clashed on the Falcon floor, the Falcons winning the game by one point, the final score being 36-35. The Youngstown team was a fast combination, giving the locals plenty of reason for playing their best brand of ball.

For the victors every member of the team played fine ball, while Wopershall played best for the defeated five.

Richards Likes Chances Of American Cup Team

Reveals Fact That Tilden Will Turn Professional After This Year

Tilden, Williams And Johnston Figured Prominently In Cup Fight

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Having thrown a few rocks at the glass houses within range, Vincent Richards varied his program today by violently hurling a bouquet of sweet peas point blank at the American Davis Cup team, which he said couldn't and wouldn't lose the international trophy in 1927. Inadvertently, however, one of the posies was bound in morocco or something, and it just happened that that was the one that struck William T. Tilden a light haymaker full on the profile.

Upon being revived it was discovered that William had been charged with confiding to friends that, win, lose or draw in the Davis Cup series and national singles, he would turn professional at the end of the 1927 season. The result, Richards declared, would be a national "open" championship in New York the following season.

It is generally understood that Richards doesn't love William for himself alone, but this didn't stop the young man from paying his rival a tribute as the man who would write travel insurance against a Davis Cup migration to France this season.

"With Tilden in there, the cup will stay in America", was Richards' unqualified statement. "Backed up by Bill Johnston and Dick Williams, he is perfectly capable of keeping the cup here in 1927.

"As for 1928, that will be the tennis association's problem, not mine. Tilden will be an out-and-out professional by that time. Even if he didn't tell friends about his plans in that direction, I would know without asking what he means to do.

"It is a natural evolution. Here is Tilden today, a synthetic amateur with no visible means of support outside of so-called amateur tennis. He finds that, in a few months, I have made four times as much money as he has made in an entire year. Just try to keep that boy out of the money under these conditions."

Intra-Mural Teams Play To Deadlock

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 12.—One of the longest contests in the history of basketball at Westminster College was played in the Intra-Mural League, Friday afternoon, when the Eps and Phi Pis played to a 12-12 deadlock. Three extra-five minute periods were reeled off but to no avail. At the end of the third, the captains of the two aggregations requested Referee Coleman to cease hostilities until a later date as the members of both quintets were at the point of physical exhaustion.

The Eps started well, holding a 3-0 lead at the end of the first period. The same team was in the lead 6-3 at half time, but at the three way mark, the Phi. Pis had crept up and knotted the count at seven all. A foul goal gave the Phi Pis a one point lead in the fourth period until the last second of play, when a Phi Pi guard overstepped the rules and the Eps were granted a foul try. Time was up but Trotter of the Eps, caged the foul to tie the score.

In the first period, Thomas shot a field goal for the Phi Pis as did Trotter for the Eps. In the next session, Berry, Phi Pi, caged a two-plyer but the Eps came back with two fouls. Neither team registered a point in the final canto, although the Eps failed in two attemps from the foul line.

The lineup:

Phi Pi Phi.		Epsilon Theta Pi.
Wetzel	f	Moore
McClure	f	Trotter
Berry	c	Hutchison
H. Bucher	g	Profio
Thomas	g	McCracken

Subs;—Phi Pis, Cooper for Wetzel, Campbell for Cooper; Eps, Millison for McCracken.

Field Goals;—McClure, Berry 2, Thomas 2, Trotter, Hutchison 2.

Foul Goals;—Phi Pis 2-11; Eps 6-13.

Referee;—Coleman.

New Castle High Maidens Defeat Mars 37 To 19

New Castle High Girls Defeat Mars In Fast Game Here Friday Night

The New Castle High girls team defeated the Mars High maidens 37 to 19, in the game that was to have been a preliminary attraction at the Senior High court on Friday night.

The score at the end of the first half favored New Castle 18 to 13. The Mars team led by E. Knaell and Ziegler played a fine brand of ball in the first two periods and they matched the work of the locals.

The New Castle team at the start of the third quarter found the going somewhat easier and began to count them up faster than an adding machine. At the end of the third quarter the locals were ahead 31 to 15, and it was quite apparent that the Mars team was just a "flash" the first half.

It was through the fine work of the two New Castle forwards that the locals secured their victory. Captain Patterson dropped six through the hoops, while her sidekick Miss Anne Ponion bagged eight from the field to lead the teams in scoring. The work of Miss Plattner and Miss Wolf also featured. For Mars the playing of Miss E. Knaell and Miss Ziegler was the best, with Eythe and Oesterling also played a strong game.

It was the second victory of the year for the local maidens over the Mars team.

The lineup and summary:—

New Castle 37.		Mars High 19.
Patterson	f	Ziegler
Ponion	f	E. Knaell
Plattner	c	Balbier
Patton	sc	Oesterling
Wolf	g	Eythe
Wygonowski	g	H. Knaell

Subs;—Kerr, Craig, Clark, Hart, Haines, Morrison, Morrow, Dawson, Forsythe.

Field Goals;—Patterson 6, Ponion 8, Clark, Hart, Ziegler 3, E. Knaell 5.

Fouls;—New Castle 6 out of 13. Mars 3 out of 4.

Referee;— Brookheimer, Slippery Rock.

Ramblers Win From Housers

The Ramblers topped the Houser and Kennedy team to the tune of 28-13 in a game played at the Lincoln gym Thursday night.

The lineup:—

Ramblers 28		H & K 13
Johns	F	Hannon
Neyman	F	Pittaway
Blight	C	Kelso
Thomas	G	R. Gilbert
Jenkins	G	E. Gilbert

Subs—Lewis, Mackaski, Miller, Campbell. Field Goals—Neyman 5, Jenkins, Kelso 3, Blight, Thomas, Pittaway, E. Gilbert. Fouls—Ramblers, 8 out of 11; Houser and Kennedy, 3 out of 8. Referee—"Bat" Parker.

Wampum Indies To Play J. & J. Five

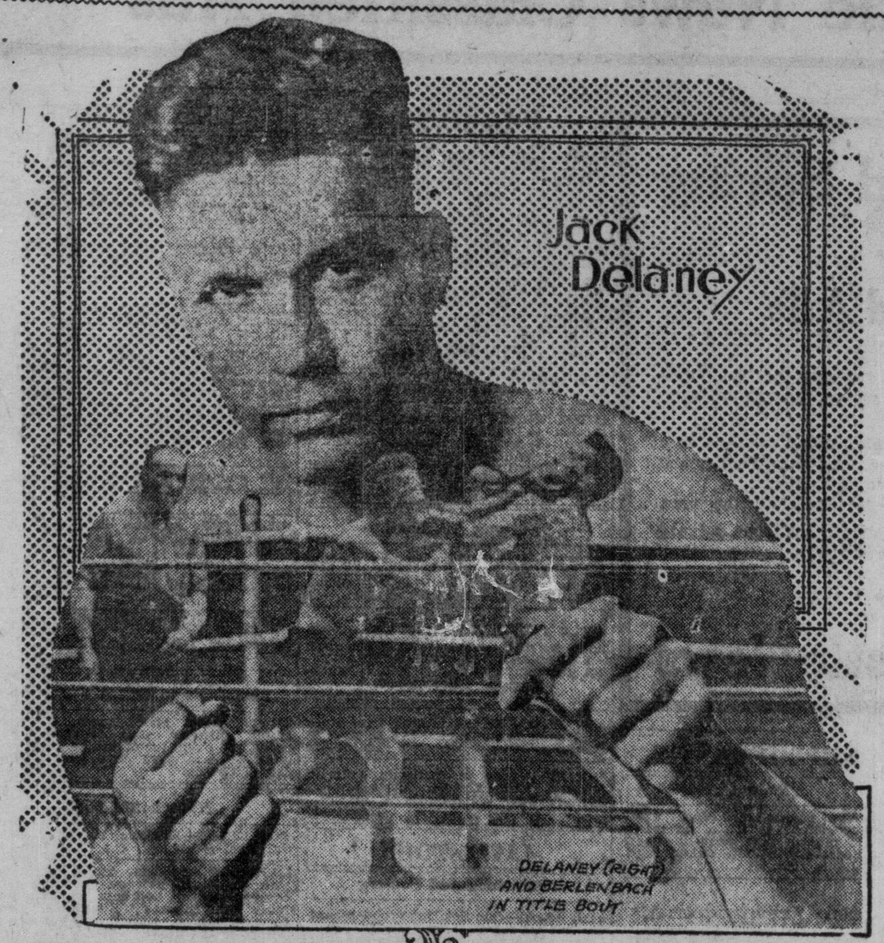

The Wampum Indies have been very fortunate in securing the J. & L. team fora game Tuesday night on the Wampum Opera House floor.

The "Steelers" have one of the fastest teams in the Beaver Valley and they plan to give the Wampumites a hard fought battle. The Indies will be primed for a victory over the noted aggregation.

Manager Ray Blythe is still booking teams for the Indies and desires to hear from team managers for games at home or abroad.

ALL READY FOR THE "BIG SHOT"

Jack Delaney Will Move Up Or Down Feb. 18

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

Jack Delaney is ready for his CHANCE!

The light heavyweight champion will take a long stride toward the "big shot" at Gene Tunney's crown the night of February 18, or will virtually be eliminated from further consideration.

Delaney, as a light heavyweight, builded a rep with a rapier-like left and a mule-kicking right.

Against the material in the light heavy ranks Delaney showed up as a great ring general, a quick thinker, a clever boxer, and a heavy hitter. He boasts the ability to "move about" and shift his feet that few of the modern fighters have taken the time to acquire.

Some critics have referred to him as the one man Gene Tunney "doesn't want to meet" if he cares to retain the title.

Delaney and Jimmy Maloney of Boston open the elimination tourney February 18 that will probably point out the logical man to meet Gene Tunney—signed to fight for Tex Rickard next September.

Maloney is slow. He is only a fair boxer. Delaney's friends say Jim is "built" for Delaney; that Delaney will dazzle him with his boxing and then drive home his nerve paralyzing punches to the stomach which spelled Paul Berlenbach's end as light heavy king.

Will Jack travel true to form?

SPORTS DONE BROWN

What does the coming season hold for Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker?

To what extent will the change in their environment and the relief from their managerial worries and the cloud that hung over them for several months last year, affect their general playing — and for how long?

The queries open up an interesting field for speculation.

To say that they will both have great years because of their logical determination to "show the world" that they are not through and to vindicate their playing in the eyes of the fans is idle talk. If the spirit alone were to control their future this would be true but the flesh often is lacking where the spirit is willing.

However, it is reasonable to suppose that the relief from mental worries of many kinds will give them more time to rest between games, more time to devote to conditioning themselves and freer minds to concentrate on the actual playing part of their game. One can't field his position perfectly while weighing the need of a relief pitcher as he trails a fly ball.

TAKE THE TWO MEN INDIVIDUALLY.

Speaker played in 150 of the 154 games scheduled for the Indians last season. The campaign itself was a hectic one. The Yankees, you will recall, threatened early to make a runaway race of it and would have but for the Indians. They hung doggedly to the heels of the champs. Speaker, in addition to guiding the team in masterly fashion, hit for a .304 average and ranked second in driving out two-base hits with a total of 52, a remarkable number.

He collected a total of 164 hits and scored 96 runs.

He laid down 28 sacrifice hits.

Cobb played in only 79 games. His stated reason for benching himself much of the time was to develop a Tiger outfield that could function without him when he carried out an announced intention of making 1926 his last season.

In the 79 games in which he did participate he hit .339, lammed out a total of 79 hits, scored 46 runs, laid down 13 bunts and stole nine bases. All of which would indicate that his speed hadn't disappeared entirely if his legs were a bit wobbly.

I'm inclined to think that Cobb, finding himself free to devote his entire time to playing his old role of a private in the outfield for Connie Mack will have at least one big year.

As for Speaker's chances I believe that, all other angles being carefully weighed, the mere change in environment will work the most good for the Texan.

Speaker for the last two or three years has not guarded his condition in the off months as he did in former years. Well meaning friends forgot that his success in baseball, as manager and player, depended upon perfect condition. Business connections made it hard for Speaker to resist the social life offered him.

And just one other thought. Neither Clark Griffith nor Connie Mack have ever shown an inclination to gamble large sums for mere "gate" attractions. This would indicate that both leaders believe they are buying actual baseball material which will strengthen their club to the amount that may be expected from such an outlay.

Twelve Monessen Citizens Found Guilty In Court

Five Others Indicted For Conspiracy Are Given Freedom By Jury

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 12.—Twelve residents of Monessen, Pa., and vicinity, including William A. Horne, chief of Monessen police, were found guilty of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law when a sealed verdict, reached by a jury here last night, was read in federal court today before Judge R. M. Gibson. Five other defendants were found not guilty.

HALL of FAME

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Nominating BABE ADAMS.

Because he has been playing league baseball since 1904 and paid a short call in the big leagues as early as 1906—with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Because he pitched 17 years for the Pittsburgh Pirates, a career that was interrupted only by a short stretch of two seasons in the minors—1916-1918.

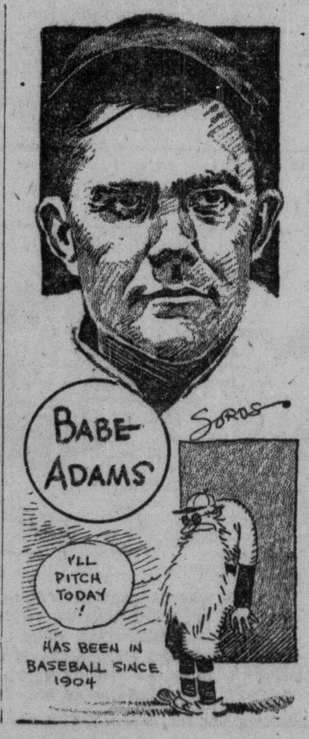

Because he won three games for the Pirates in the world's series of 1909, his first year with the team.

Because that feat placed him with the few morals— Christy Mathewson, Coveleskie et al—who have turned the trick.

Because, 16 years later, he broke into another world's series.

Because at the age of 45 he will now try his hand at managing a ball club—the Johnstown team of the Middle-Atlantic League.

And because he may try his hand at pitching a few games while teaching the young idea how to play the game.

Imperials And Baptist Take League Games

Imperials Defeat Sacred Hearts; Baptists Trip Croton Quintet

The Jewish Imperials defeated the Sacred Hearts by a score of 28 to 15 and the First Baptist team downed the Croton M. E. quintet by a score of 32 to 20 in the New Castle Church league games played on Friday night at he Y. M. C. A.

The Imperials had a tough fight on their hands in downing the Hearts. At half time the score read 14 to 4 and had it not been for the big lead piled up by the Imperials in the first two periods they would have been defeated as the Hearts came back in the second half to score 11 points. A. Plant, Rogovin and Fiedman were the big guns for the Imperials while Maielli and Marcella were the best for the losers.

The First Baptist team led by Harry Orr with eight baskets had an easy time with the Crotonites in the second game of the evenig. The final score was 32 to 20.

The score at half time favored the Baptists 19 to 9. The Croton team spurted somewhat in the third and fourth periods to tally 11 points to 13 for the Baptists.

West, Twaddle and Bennighoff were the shinig lights for the Crotonites while H. Orr, Whaley and Gibson were the best for the Baptists.

Boston Sport Fans Rejoicing As Carrigan Again Heads Reds

BOSTON, Feb. 12.—Joy reigns in the hearts of Boston's sport followers. The cloud which has hung over the heads of baseball fans in this city like a pall of gloom for the past few years has disclosed a silver lining. "Fighting Bill' Carrigan, idol of Boston followers of the national game, is back at the Red Sox helm again.

Though the chilling winds of winter still howl around the bleachers of Fenway Park and snow covers the diamond, most any fan of days gone by will swear that the ghost of the championship years is to be seen in the vicinity. The choes of "Tessie" as sung by the old Royal Rooters, each year growing fainter, are returning. Once more Boston will be in the running —at least so boast the loyal ones.

From the business world of Lewiston, Me., "Fighting Bill" has heard the call and is back again. With Carrigan is coming another great veteran of the diamond, Heinie Wagner, whose gamboling on the Red Sox shortstop green was once the talk of the leagues.

Memories of the past were revived when Carrigan announced that the Sox battery would undoubtedly go to Hot Springs, Ark., for a two weeks training session. It was at Hot Springs that the old Red Sox teams got in the preliminaries in the years when pennants nung on the Boston flagpole.

Although Carrigan is not familiar with the Red Sox roster, he believes that the team has material for a first division rating. Displaying the same cautiousness that made him a success in years past, Carrigan has not sanctioned any deals involving any of his players since he signed with President "Bob" Quinn to handle the team this year. He wants to look them over first.

The team will train at New Orleans this year using Pelican Park in that city for their stamping ground. The battery men will go to Hot Springs two weeks in advance of the remainder of the squad, joining the latter at New Orleans.

A gigantic task confronts Carrigan in rejuvenating the Sox from the place they were left by Lee Fohl. But, it is the sincere belief of all that know Carrigan, that if the ability is in the men, he will bring it out.

The baseball investigations of the "Winter League" season have not diminished baseball enthusiasm in this city. It might have hurt the game here had it not been for the return of Carrigan as boss of the Red Sox. So jubilant were the fans that the old backstop was to be with them again that they lost sight of Judge Landis and his "checker" match with Ban Johnson and the players involved.

Carrigan got his managerial baptism in 1913 when he succeeded Jake Stahl. Before retiring 10 years ago he won two championships and kept the team near the top in other years. It is a cinch that when the familiar cry of "Play Ball!" rings out in the American League this year that the Carrigan charges will be in there fighting.

New Wilmington High Tops Union Passers 33 To 6

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 12—The New Wilmington High team smothered the Union High passers under a score of 33 to 6 in a lopsided contest staged on the New Wilmington high court on Friday night.

The Union High team failed to stop the fast attack of the locals. It was all New Wilmington and for the first half of the game the local boys secured 20 points to one for the Union tossers. The Union team composed for the greater part of inexperienced men were no match for the older and more experienced New Wilmington team. The Unionites scored but two field goals against the Wiggins team.

Davis, Hutchinson and Herriott were the big scorers for New Wilmington with a total of 12 field goals between them. For the Union team the work of Schiek and Hughes featured.

The game was well played despite the fact that it was lopsided and kept a rather large crowd of spectators interested throughout. A total of 12 fouls were called by Referee Coles with five of them being utilized as points.

The lineup and summary.

New Wilmington.		Union High
Davis	F	Crispy
Patterson	F	Kellar
Hutchinson	C	Hughes
James	G	Schiek
Heriott	G	Gibson

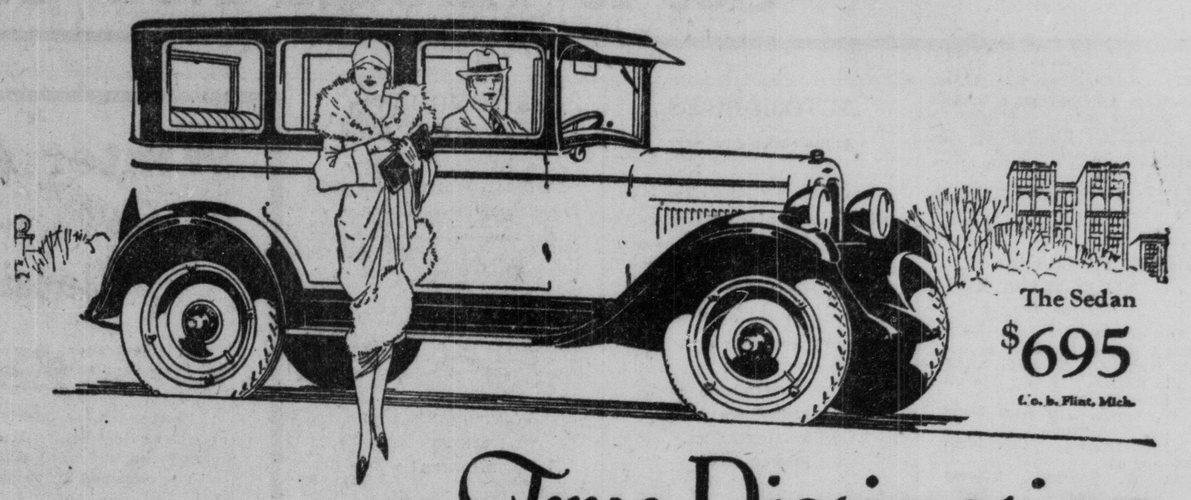

Subs: Mottinger, Carr.

Field goals: Davis 5, Patterson, Hutchinson 3, James 2, Herriott 4, Hughes, Schiek.

Fouls: New Wilmington 3 out of 13; Union High 2 out of 9.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Behind The Union Lines.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

BEHIND THE UNION LINES WAS A GREAT ARMY OF PATRIOTIC WOMEN WHO HAD RESPONDED TO PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S CALL AS PROMPTLY AS THE MEN. IN THE EARLY DAYS OF THE WAR THEY INSPIRED ENLISTMENTS AND BRIGHTENED THE DEPARTURE OF TROOPS FOR THE FIRING LINE WITH CHEERS AND REFRESHMENTS.

THEY WORKED UNCEASINGLY, ROLLING BANDAGES, PREPARING DELICACIES AND COLLECTING COMFORTS FOR THE FIGHTING MEN WHICH WERE DISTRIBUTED BY THE SANITARY COMMISSION, AN EXTENSIVE ORGANIZATION CREATED TO CARE FOR THE SOLDIER IN CAMP AND HOSPITAL.

AS THE WAR DRAGGED ON, THE NUMBERS OF WOUNDED SOLDIERS SENT TO THE REAR INCREASED. THE HOSPITALS WERE FILLED TO OVERFLOWING AND THOUSANDS OF DEVOTED WOMEN NOBLY GAVE THEIR TIME TO HELP AND COMFORT THESE SUFFERERS AND THE SICK IN THE CAMPS.

AMONG THESE MINISTERING ANGELS WAS CLARA BARTON, WHO LATER BECAME THE FIRST PRESIDENT OF THE ASSOCIATION OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS, THAT PRAISEWORTHY SOCIETY WHICH IS EVER READY TO SERVE THE CAUSE OF STRICKEN HUMANITY IN TIME OF WAR OR CATASTROPHE.

Series O, consisting of bonds from 81 to 90, inclusive, shall become due and payable May 1st, 1946;

Series P, consisting of bonds from 91 to 100 inclusive, shall become due and payable May 1st, 1947.

SECTION 4. That for the payment of interest and taxes on the said bonds and for the liquidation of the principal thereof at maturity there shall be, and there is hereby assessed and levied annually upon the assessed valuation of all the taxable property within the said City, a tax sufficient in amount to produce the following sums, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the fiscal year commencing on the first Monday of January in each of the years below designated, viz.:

For the year 1928, Eight Thousand One Hundred Twenty-five ($8,125.00) Dollars;

For the year 1929, Eight Thousand One Hundred Twenty-five ($8,125.00) Dollars;

For the year 1930, Nine Thousand One Hundred Twenty-five ($9,125.00) Dollars;

For the year 1931, Nine Thousand One Hundred Twenty-five ($9,125.00) Dollars;

For the year 1932, Nine Thousand Four Hundred Ten $9,410.00) Dollars;

For the year 1933, Nine Thousand One Hundred Sixty-five ($9,165.00) Dollars;

For the year 1934, Eight Thousand Nine Hundred Twenty ($8,920.00) Dollars;

For the year 1935, Eight Thousand Six Hundred Seventy-five ($8,675.00) Dollars;

For the year 1936, Eight Thousand Four Hundred Thirty ($8,430.00) Dollars;

For the year 1937, Eight Thousand One Hundred Eighty-five ($8,185.00) Dollars;

For the year 1938, Seven Thousand Nine Hundred Forty ($7,940.00) Dollars;

For the year 1939, Seven Thousand Six Hundred Ninety-five ($7,695.00) Dollars;

For the year 1940, Seven Thousand Four Hundred Fifty ($7,450.00) Dollars;

For the year 1941, Seven Thousand Two Hundred Five ($7,205.00) Dollars;

For the year 1942, Six Thousand Nine Hundred Sixty ($6,960.00) Dollars;

For the year 1943, Six Thousand Seven Hundred Fifteen ($6,715.00) Dollars;

For the year 1944, Eleven Thousand Four Hundred Seventy ($11,470.00) Dollars;

For the year 1945, Ten Thousand Nine Hundred Eighty (10,980.00) Dollars;

For the year 1946, Ten Thousand Four Hundred Ninety (10,490.00) Dollars;

SECTION 5. The said bonds shall be known as the "City of New Castle Improvement Bonds, Series of 1927," and shall be signed by the Mayor, attested by the City Clerk under the Corporate Seal of the said City, and shall be countersigned by the Superintendent of Accounts and Finance and by the City Controller. The interest coupons attached to the said bonds shall be signed by the City Clerk, the Superintendent of Accounts and Finance, and the City Controller by and under their own or fac-simile signatures.

SECTION 6. The money borrowed under the provisions of this ordinance shall be and the same is hereby dividend and appropriated to the following uses and purposes, to-wit: (1) The sum of Forty-five Thousand ($45,000.00) Dollars to be used and is hereby appropriated for constructing and re-constructing the garbage incinerating plant in the said City; (2) the sum of Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) Dollars shall be used and is hereby appropriated for purchasing certain equipment for the Fire Department of the said City; and (3) the sum of Forty Thousand ($40,000.00) Dollars shall be used and is hereby appropriated for improving certain streets and constructing certain sewers in said City.

SECTION 7. Registration of any of the said bonds issued under the provisions of this ordinance may be made in the manner provided by law in the office of the Superintendent of Accounts and Finance of said City, but the right to register said bonds shall be confined to the principal debt thereon. In case any bond is registered and thereafter transferred by the registered holder thereof to any other person or persons, the said transferee, or his assigns, may transfer or re-transfer the same to bearer and thus again restore its negotiability, provided written notice of such transfer is given to the Superintendent of Accounts and Finance of the said City.

SECTION 8. The Council of the said City shall annually fix the tax rate or millage upon the valuation and assessment for that year, so that the said rate of millage will produce the revenue and taxes hereinabove set forth in Section 4.

I, Cordelia Zeigler Jones, City Clerk, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing ordinance has been regularly introduced and is now pending in the council of the City of New Castle, Pa. In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of the city, this 29th day of January, 1927.

Prepare To Call Jurors For Trial Of Louis Mazer

By ROBERT WALLACE.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CANTON, O., Feb. 12.—Preparations to call a jury venire of 75 names for the trial of Louis Mazer, third of the trio charged with the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, were being made here today by Sheriff Ed Gibson.

Mazer's trial will begin March 16 it was announced. He and Ben Rudner now being tried are alleged to have planned and financed the killing while Pat McDermott, already convicted and serving a life sentence in the penitentiary was indicted as the "trigger man."

For months Mazer has been held in the Stark county workhouse and recently there have been rumors that he is on the verge of insanity. Attendants state, however that such reports are unfounded.

The dispatsch which has marked the Rudner trial during the last few days indicates thit it will go to the jury the latter part of next week. The state should finish its case by mid-week and though the defense has not announced the number of witnesses it will use not more than two or three days should be required.

Court was adjourned Friday afternoon until Monday when Prosecutor Henry Harter, Jr., announced that the speed with which the trial had moved had exhausted the state's available witnesses. Others summoned had been notified to appear later.

Red Cross Report For Past Month

The following is the monthly report of the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross for the month of January. During the last three days of the month the field representative, Miss Erskine, visited at the local Red Cross in the interest of the chapter, going into the various departments and activities, and her report was pleasing. Reports of the various departments are as follows:

Life Saving

In the life saving department 70 beginners and swimmers passed the test at the Ben Franklin Junior High, under the instruction of Mr. Geasa.

Home Service

In the home service or civilian relief department we had 14 new or reopened cases come to our attention and 10 cases were closed. Twenty-seven visits were made and there were 58 office interviews. Thirty-three letters, telegrams and affidavits were sent and 24 letters and telegrams were received. Relief was given to eight families in the amount of $81.56.

Through our efforts two men were hospitalized and a child of an ex-service man was taken care of. Transportation was furnished one, three grocery orders were sent and assistance was rendered a family relative to having a guardian appointed for a minor child of an ex-service man, disabled.

Nurse's Report

Our nurse, Miss Reed, has been very busy during the month, making 41 visits, 38 of these being bedside nursing visits. In connection with this work Miss Reed has started in the parochial schools, making inspections of the pupils. Twenty-seven visits to these schools were made and 456 pupils were weighed and measured and 64 pupils were given full inspection by the nurse. Attended two Red Cross meetings and had five office interviews.

Financial Report

Receipts, $937.27. Disbursements, $598.80.

Weekly Review Of New York Market

By W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Professional traders and the outside public played hide and seek with each other in the market manipulation of railroad and industrial stocks this week. The sudden breaking of the corner in Wheeling and Lake Erie common was accomplished through means and methods which were not made known to the public, but can be safely said that quite a few of the stock certificates locked up in the strong boxes of the big railroad companies were produced, or at least promised for the relief of the distracted shorts.

With speculative "little rails," driven to the highest price levels in their history in frenzied trading on Tuesday, the same stocks thrown violently downward on Wednesday on bear raids and the uncovering of stop-loss orders; the industrials specialties "jazzed-up" by the powerful pools on Thursday and the gradual spread of the speculative fever to the outlying financial centers of the country, the week was one long to be remembered in Wall street.

Shun Intrinsic Values

In the scramble to buy and to unload, little consideration was given to intrinsic values, or to the earning capacitiee of the industrial and railroad companies behind the various security issues traded in. So swiftly did the speculative rails move downward on Wednesday, that orders for stock sales executed "at the market" brought prices from 2 to 10 below those appearing simultaneously on the tape.

The industrial development of the week were mostly favorable, though some shrinkage was noted in the volume of output, as well as of advance orders in the so-called basic industries and a further decline in wholesale commodity prices. The latter is generally regarded as a signal of a forthcoming recession in business in the country as a whole; but these forecasts have been more or less disregarded of late, because of the hand-to-mouth system of purchasing adopted by the bulk of the manufacturing and distributing enterprises.

Dividend Record Favorable

Failure of the reserve bank directors to lower the re-discount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York was based upon the expectation of an increase in the demand for commercial fund with the opening up of the spring business a few weeks hence. Manufacturers of automobiles, machinery, building materials and other important lines have already announced preparations for a material expansion in their operations and outputs this year, and attach no importance whatever to the predictions of a business slump.

The week's dividend record was also favorable, including an increase in the cash disbursement of General Motors Corporation; inauguration of dividend payments to stockholders of American international.

Corporation; a stock dividend to U. S. realty stockholders. From earnings reports submitted by a number of the industrial and railroad companies it is logical to anticipate either an increase in the present dividends on the inauguration of new dividends and a great deal of the bullish sentiment in the stock market is based on such expectations.

Ford's Theater Nation's Shrine Under New Plan

See Danger Of Fire To Building Where Lincoln Was Assassinated

May Become Headquarters For Veterans And Home Of Famous Collection

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, February 12—Aroused by the danger of famous old Ford's theatre, where Abraham Lincoln was shot and fatally wounded by John Wilkes Booth, being wiped out by fire a group of members of Congress have rallied to a proposal to make the theatre a national shrine.

The danger of destruction by fire is increased, it is declared, by the fact that thousands of small bundles of paper are stored in it by the War Department.

The theatre, a dingy, musty old building, is usually passed up by sight-seeing guides who pilot tourists through stately government buildings and past magnificent homes of foreign envoys in the national capital. But a stream of visitors wanders into Tenth street each day to gaze at the building, and the old house across the street, in which Lincoln died.

Complaints Are Made

Many complaints have been made by tourists who have found the building being used as a storehouse.

The plan proposed by Senator Watson, (R) of Indiana and Rep. Rathbone, (R) of Illinois is to remodel the buildings to protect it it against the danger of fire and the ravages of age. They would make it a headquarters for veterans organizations and place in it the famous Oldroyd collection of Lincoln relics.

Opposition has developed to the proposal to make the museum other than a shrine. Spokesmen for veterans of the World War have already indicated their belief that if the building is made a veterans' headquarters it should be soly for the veterans of '61 and '65.

The Oldroyd collection which Congress purchased from Captain Osborn H. Oldroyd, is regarded by Rep. Rathbone as the finest in the country. It was purchased by Congress and now is stored in the old Peterson boarding house where Lincoln died.

Another Collection

Capt. Oldroyd has obtained another collection of Civil War relics which he expects to donate to the government Rathbone said.

"We should take steps to preserve old Ford's theatre before sentiment passes so far that Congress would allow it to be destroyed and a skyscrapper to take its place," said Rathbone who originated the museum plan.

"At the present time Lincoln relics are now at many places in the country, at the shrine in Kentucky, in Springfield, Ills., the Congressional library and the new Lincoln Memorial. Ford's theatre and the Peterson house can be made a museum and shrine which will be an inspiration to millions of Americans."

News Reporter Struck By Auto-Jay Walking

"Jaywalker walks into machine and is seriously injured" is the headline that might have been the headlines of an item in the News today, but fortunately for the writer, such is not the case.

A sore arm and a general sore condition of the muscles on the right side of the body is all that can be reported. No bones were broken, no motorist is in danger of a demand for damages, neither is there any insurance company being asked to pay accident insurance and all because it turned out better than it might have under the circumstances.

"Jaywalking" is the bane of the motorist and the police. And is a habit that prevails in the smaller cities and town, which should be overcome.

Had the writer had in his mind on the business of crossing the street in this case and not on something else, a considerable distance from the scene of the near accident, there would have been no collision of a car and human being.

Whether the writer or the driver of the car in this case, which occured on a downtown street last night, sustained the greater shock is hard to tell but it is probable that it was a lesson to both.

The writer crossed at other than a regular crossing, when by going a few feet further, he could have crossed in safety, or at least fully protected in all his rights. He is not entirely to blame for the incident, for the motorist was traveling on a downtown street with but one headlight burning and this made a little more difficult to determine the full progress of the car, than if both lights had been burning, especially as snow was falling and prevented a perfectly clear vision.

But this is the thought the writer would convey. Never cross a street, no matter how great or how little traffic may be on the street, except at the regular crossing. Then the pedestrain is likely to be entirely within his rights and the motorists is fully prepared or should be, to avoid crashing into the person crossing the street.
